Intelligence Unit Elects President

Andy Shumack of Scotch Plains has been elected president of the Counter Intelligence Association of New Jersey at a meeting conducted in Linden.

It was the first meeting of the Association after its recent reorganization, and was attended by 42 former and present members of the C. I. A. Among these were special agents of the F. B. I., Treasury Department agents, and State and local police department personnel.

The Association is seeking to reach other former and active members of the C. I. C. in the State. In the Bergen County area, prospective candidates are asked to call John Walker, 970 Main Street, Hackensack.

Four meetings a year are scheduled by the Association at a central location announced by the president. The next meeting is scheduled for June. The time and place will be announced later.
