Dear Nancy,

I want you to know how deeply I appreciate your warm words of support and good wishes. They mean a great deal to me as I enter on this new and challenging responsibility. In the short time I have been here, I have found extraordinarily talented and dedicated men and women doing an incredibly difficult job for our country. I feel privileged to join hands with them.

I was saddened to hear that your daughter, Linda, has lost her sight. I have seen her work here at the Agency. She is a very talented young woman.

Linda's photographs are hung in employee lounges throughout the building. These areas have been brightened considerably by Linda's works. As lovely as they are, however, I am told that they are not suitable for use throughout the Agency because they are actual photographs, as opposed to lithographs, that will fade when exposed to sunlight. The employees lounges, which are windowless, are an ideal spot for Linda's photographs.

Although presently there is no space at headquarters suitable for Linda's photographs, the Agency is scheduled to open a new building in January 1988. If the new building has suitable space, her work will get every consideration.

Government agencies might be more interested in Linda's photographs if they were printed as lithographs. This would solve the fading problem and also lower the cost of each print considerably, I am told. The following companies offer photographs printed as lithographs for sale to Government agencies:

Mr. William Webster
Dept of CIA
Washington, D. C.

Dear Bill:

Congratulations on becoming the head of the Central Intelligence Agency. Dolph and I are happy for you, and we feel most fortunate to have you in this position for our Country. We also think you did a terrific job as head of FBI.

I am writing to send you a letter written by my daughter, Linda Montgomery, and a brochure of her photography.

I do not know if you are aware that Linda was a photographer with her own company, Divine Designs, for many years until she lost her sight, due to her diabetes, three years ago. Now since her successful kidney transplant last January at Georgetown Hospital, she is marketing her tapes and her photography.

I also wonder if you know that Linda's last big order of her framed photographs was for the offices of the CIA in Washington. Now, knowing the work and who the artist is perhaps the CIA would be interested in more of Linda's work, and perhaps you know of others who might be interested.

If you have an interest, please call or write Linda at the address below. I know she would be thrilled to hear from you, and I know you would love her work.

Dolph, Chris, our 17 year old son, and I are loving our summer farm here in Cherry Valley, N. Y. with the temp in the 70's and 80's while it is 100° in St. Louis. Hope to see you in St. Louis sometime. Have a good summer.

Sincerely,

Nancy Orthwein
(Mrs. A. B.)

Dear Friends,

Many of you know me as Nancy Orthwein's daughter, Linda, and perhaps you also know of a recent miracle in my life; a kidney transplant which has given me new energy, vitality and a sustained willingness to do God's work.

The past three years have been especially challenging for me. The gradual loss of my outer vision has enabled me to find a new source of inner strength. Although the experience was somewhat frightening, it was interspersed with insights and understandings of my spiritual journey and the opportunity for expanded awareness.

During this period of adjustment and perseverance, I have recorded many of my experiences on tape which will eventually appear as a book titled Beyond Darkness, Into Light.

Over the past two years, I have also been asked to give several talks to local church groups on the topic of healing. Two of these talks are now available on tape. The first is titled, "Prayer - An Opening of the Heart", and the second is titled, "Learning to Choose Between the Ego and the Holy Spirit". The cost per tape is $6.50, plus $2.00 for postage and handling. If you are interested, please send a check payable to me along with a listing of the desired tape or tapes you would like.

I would appreciate knowing of your experience with the tapes and any suggestions you might have as to future topics.

I am grateful to many of you for your thoughts and prayers during this time, as well as your continued support.

Love, Light and Blessings,

Linda Montgomery

DIVINE DESIGNS, INC.

Add life and color to your interiors with photographic images from Divine Designs. These unique images will add a new dimension to your office environment.

Specifically designed as wall decor, each photograph is an original work combining imagery, color, and design to complement any interior. In addition to enhancing office furnishings, these images minimize environmental stress by promoting color and balance, harmony and tranquility.

Each photograph offered by Divine Designs is available in varying sizes and formats.

The artist, Linda Montgomery, a fine arts graduate, has a discerning eye for design and color. A free lance commercial and portrait photographer, Linda has recently developed a new area of expertise in nature photography. She visually translates her love of nature onto film, bringing sunlight and the spirit of nature indoors as interior decor.

All photographic images are composed in the camera lens and printed full-image with no cropping or alteration.
