Judge Webster:

The House Foreign Affairs Committee has been talking for some weeks about requesting you to testify on the Oversight Legislation. They have now proposed an open session for the morning of Tuesday, 14 June. Peggy advises that your schedule will permit this appearance. I will work with her to set up a pre-brief session, but I anticipate you will be using basically the same testimony that we used for previous sessions.

To divide the labor a bit, I have tentatively arranged for Bob Gates to do the House Intelligence Committee hearing on arms control scheduled for next Wednesday, 8 June. It would be difficult to juggle your calendar to permit you to do the arms control one but, if you wish to take it on, we could try again to resolve the scheduling problems.

I will assume that these scheduling decisions are acceptable unless you advise otherwise.
