Analysis

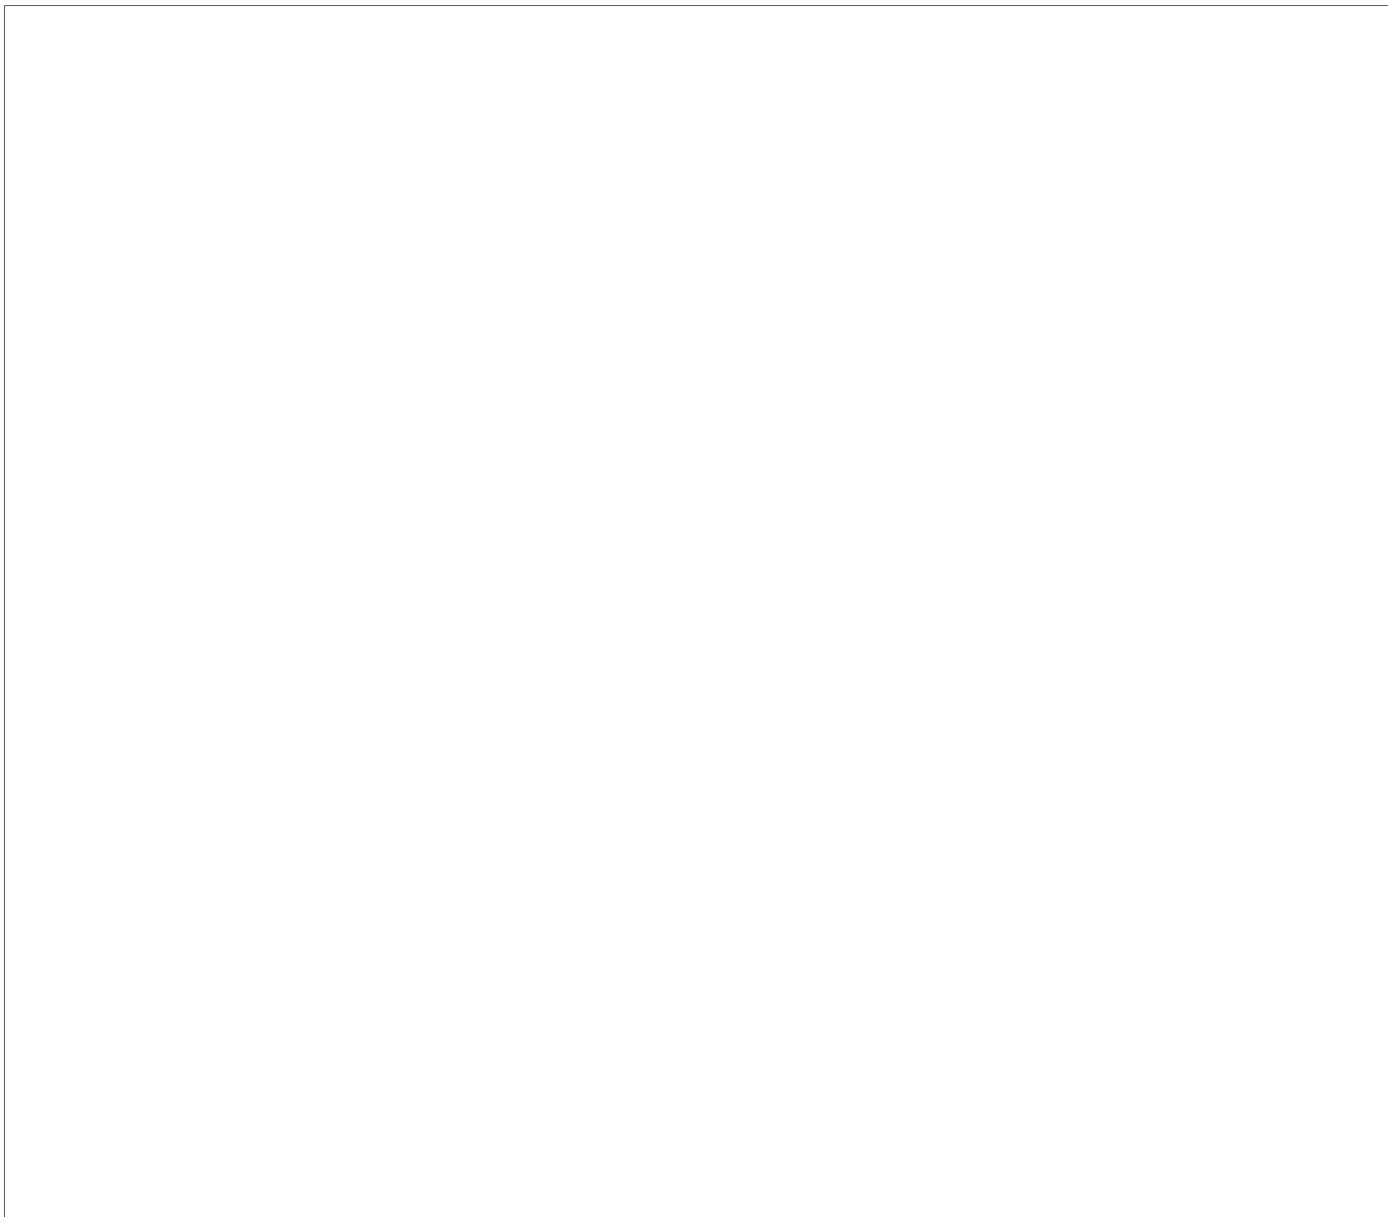

- The National Intelligence Council's negotiations with DIA on net assessments have reached an impasse. Although JCS agrees to full Intelligence Community participation, DIA is opposed. A memo is being forwarded with additional details and recommendations.

25X1

- The Office of Global Issues (OGI) briefed Ambassador Lester Korn, United States United Nations (USUN), on OGI's analysis of African voting bloc patterns. Ambassador Korn requested a followup briefing in New York for Ambassador Walters and other USUN staff members.

25X1

- The NIO for Foreign Denial & Intelligence Activities participated in the first running of a new Department of State training course that he helped establish. The course is designed to acquaint employees, their spouses and mature dependents serving in Soviet bloc embassies on the nature of the hostile intelligence threat.
- The Office of Training and Education hosted an orientation session on 18 February 1988 for Agency participants in the Women's Executive Leadership Program. Past graduates, program coordinators, Agency managers, and new participants met to kick off the 1988 program. The Agency is sponsoring six candidates for this Office of Personnel Management Course in 1988.

Other

- ~~The Office of the Inspector General has begun its new inspection cycle, during which there will be five major inspections of Agency components, programs or issues: the Agency's counternarcotics program; disciplinary action in the Agency; acquisition of large computer systems; the DIs Office of Near Eastern and South Asian Analysis; and the IC Staff's National Intelligence Emergency Support Office.~~

FROM: John L. Helgerson
Director of Congressional Affairs

SUBJECT: Weekly Report

25X1

Senator Bradley Speaks to Agency Conference: On 24 February Senator Bradley spoke about LDC debt issues to an Office of Global Issues/Office of Training and Education Conference entitled: "New Economic Realities: Threat to US Security." His speech focused on the role of United States banks in LDC debt renegotiation, as well as the implications of current LDC demographics on their economic development prospects. Bradley was particularly kind to come to Headquarters in view of the Senate filibuster that kept him up half the previous night.

WEEKLY REPORT FOR THE DCI
OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER
WEEK ENDING 26 FEBRUARY 1988

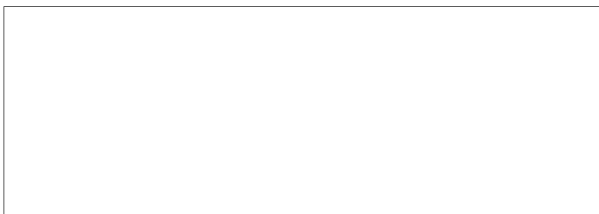

25X1

- A package of interim 1989 budget materials will be sent to the Senate and House Intelligence Committees shortly. The package includes an overview of our program and summarizes proposed new initiatives and ongoing investment programs. Delays in submitting our formal congressional budget book and the Committees' requirement for materials prior to their budget hearings require that we provide the Committees some advance material on our 1989 budget request.
- We are preparing the Congressional Budget Justification Book and working closely with the Directorate staffs preparing for the Senate Select Committee staff's review of the base portion of the CIA budget. The Committee staff is focusing on how we spent our base resources in 1987 compared with how we had planned to spend those funds. The specific offices involved will do a "dry run" preview for the Comptroller's Office about a week before the 8 March formal review.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS OFFICEMedia Relations

D/PAO and Media provided relevant background for an upcoming NEWSWEEK article on the DCI, and arranged for photo sessions for the DCI at his HPSCI testimony on 24 February and in the DCI's office on 26 February for the NEW YORK TIMES MAGAZINE. The DCI is expected to be on the NEW YORK TIMES Sunday Magazine cover sometime in March, [REDACTED]

25X1Executive Appearances

The DDCI met with the DALLAS MORNING NEWS editorial board, addressed the American Electronics Association (AEA) Texas Council luncheon and spoke to the Dallas Chapter of the Young Presidents' Organization (YPO) on 16 February. The AEA had an excellent turn out of 140 CEOs representing many of the Texan electronics firms. The attendees said that the "speech was right to the point" and gave the information they had not heard before. "Although the companies had been involved in licensing they had not understood the procedures." In some cases the companies were unaware "what technology was all right to export and what was not." YPO's of Dallas reported that the speech was greatly "appreciated" and the "comments were highly complimentary." One YPO said that the DDCI on the Agency's behalf "had accomplished many goals that he had set out to accomplish when agreeing to appear in this public forum." Approximately 150 YPO's who are heads of their companies attended this meeting.
