Analysis

- The Office of Scientific and Weapons Research (OSWR) briefed General Robert Herres, Vice Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, on missile proliferation in the Third World.
- The Office of European Analysis (EURA) prepared a typescript on Poland's economic problems that was used in Secretary Shultz's briefing book on the visit of Polish Deputy Premier Sadowski.
- The National Photographic Interpretation Center (NPIC) began electronic dissemination of the NPIC Executive Summary of imagery-derived information on issues of high current interest. The summary has been distributed to the Washington area community in video and hardcopy form for several years and consists of selected items issued in earlier NPIC products. The summary, which is intended for an executive-level audience, will be available to cleared consumers worldwide Monday through Friday.
- The Foreign Broadcast Information Service has been providing especially useful service on two accounts recently: live coverage from Soviet television of the unprecedented CPSU Conference in Moscow, and rapid translation of Russian language documents submitted by the Soviets in connection with the INF treaty and nuclear test monitoring.

- A team of college professors from the American Council of Education has reviewed and approved for college credit two of the Office of Training and Education's (OTE) courses on contracting. These are the first OTE courses to be approved for college credit.
- The Office of Logistics (OL), in cooperation with the Equal Employment Opportunity Office and the Office of General Counsel, has inaugurated a program to donate excess office furniture and furnishings to Historically Black Universities. Sojourner Douglas University of Baltimore, Maryland, recently received a truckload of metal chairs, desks, and accessories.
- OL has begun reallocating parking to accommodate the move of the Office of Technical Services to the New Headquarters Building next week. The opening of Level 3 of the Parking Deck and West Lot 3, coupled with the assignment of permits for the newly surfaced area of the South Parking Lot, will add some 1,250 new parking spaces on the Agency compound.

WEEKLY REPORT FOR THE DCI

OFFICE OF THE COMPTROLLER

WEEK ENDING 1 JULY 1988

25X1

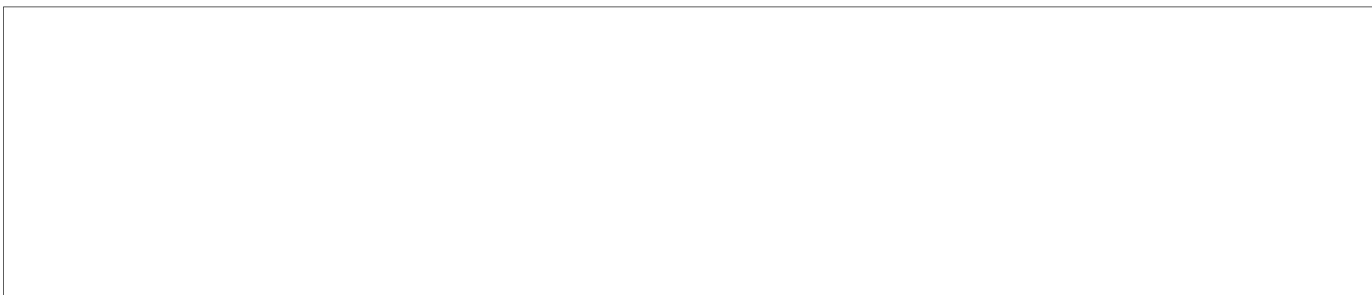

1989

-- Final action by the authorization and appropriations committees on our 1989 budget request is not likely until September. In the interim, we are preparing appeals to the cuts that we understand the House Appropriations Committee is recommending. We also are providing Directorate components with the Senate Intelligence and House Appropriations Committee reports on the 1989 budget.

1990-91

-- The Comptroller's Office has provided Directorate staffs with fiscal guidance for building their FY 1990-91 programs. The guidance is based on decisions made by the Executive Director and the Executive Committee at their offsite meeting 16-17 June.

25X1

Other

-- Office of Comptroller personnel have run the Budget Workshop course during the week 27 June-1 July. Attendees include plans and budget officers from throughout the Agency.

Executive Appearances and Invitations

25X1

The Director has been away [redacted] all this week.

25X1

On Monday, 27 June, the DDCI addressed 33 senior military and intelligence officers at a dinner meeting of the Joint Conference on Intelligence in Senior Professional Military Education [redacted]. Both Mr. Gates and General Leonard Perroots addressed the conference, and their joint appearance created an atmosphere of camaraderie. Agency Advisor to the Commander at the Air University, [redacted] said the DDCI said all the right things. The audience was very enthusiastic about the talk which was "right on the money."

25X1

Also on Monday, 27 June, [redacted] representing the Director, delivered an address at the Annual Conference of the American Society of Corporate Secretaries in Colorado Springs, Colorado, and received the Bracebridge Young Award in the Director's name.

[redacted] briefed the second group of military cadets to visit the Agency this summer--in all, we will have some 170 of these visitors this year. They are serving as summer interns in DOD. [redacted] has arranged for [redacted], the DDI Recruiting Coordinator, to speak with Dean Lois Cronholm of Temple University about the DI campaign on recruiting more minority and female professionals. Dean Cronholm is particularly concerned about our minority and female hiring practices--she raised the issue during the DCI Program for Deans and has since written to us about it.

[redacted] consulted with Susan Kaufman Purcell, Director of Latin American Studies, Council on Foreign Relations, on Cuba, Mexico, and Central America. She is completing a new book on Cuban-US relations that will be a realistic assessment of possibilities for bilateral improvements; she seems to take a middle position between those who place a high priority on normalizing ties and relative hardliners who believe that US policies are presently just about right. (D/NIC/AG)

[redacted] interviewed E Service officers and conducted the business of the Task Force on the E Service, including meeting with Executive Director Jim Taylor. (D/NIC/AG)

David Einsele and [redacted] met with the Director, Arms Control Disarmament Agency (ACDA), on chemical warfare use in the Iraq-Iran war and its impact on treaty negotiations. The Intelligence Community has recently reported that chemical weapon use in the war has been effective and even decisive in the three recent campaigns; the successful integration of chemical weapons into a conventional program probably indicates Middle East countries will attempt to retain their chemical warfare programs making negotiations for a worldwide chemical warfare ban very difficult or impossible.
