MEMORANDUM FOR ALL SEAP TASK FORCE MEMBERS

STAT FROM:

[redacted]
Chief, Procurement Management Staff
Office of Logistics

SUBJECT: Secure Equipment Acquisition Policy

1. In accordance with discussion at our last meeting, a draft of a wrap-up memorandum to the DCI has been prepared. It is attached for your review.

2. Please consider the draft a straw man and be prepared to criticize it at our next regular meeting. You will note that I have more or less prioritized the areas that we have examined and have gone through them in that order as:

- a. Threat analysis and assessment.
- b. Examination of legal and procurement constraints.
- c. Review of existent policy in the Intelligence Community or elsewhere in the Federal Government.
- d. Future direction of the computer industry and possible negative impact on Agency's policy.

STAT 3. It will be necessary for [redacted] to complete the paper which will be discussing the legal and procurement constraints and will be an attachment to the DCI memorandum. The subgroup on threat analysis and assessment has possibly gotten its paper pretty well polished up and should have this ready for our next meeting. I am not sure who can best handle the section on existent policy in the Intelligence Community or elsewhere in the Federal Government. This subject might best be handled by the [redacted] subgroup since known regulations, statutes, etc., should be discussed. On future directions and impact, while it is adding another task, I believe [redacted] would be best suited to handle this assignment. If we can double up and shorten the number of attachments, let's do it.

4. Included with this memorandum for your review is the ultimate HR. Other attachments mentioned in the memorandum are not included since they have already been distributed at various meetings. If these are attachments which add nothing, let's remove them. While the Christmas season is hard upon us, I feel that we should get our criticisms in on the attached paper and make as much progress as we can before Christmas week. It is accordingly requested that members attend a meeting at 10:00 A.M. on Wednesday, 16 December 1981, in the ODP Conference Room, Room 2D03, Headquarters.
