who had been sentenced to death. I informed her that this was not an intelligence matter, that all I knew was what I had seen in the papers, which indicated that the stay had been granted pending investigation of certain alleged irregularities in the securing of testimony on the part of the prosecution. I suggested that she call the office of the Secretary of the Army for any details.

7. The Director has requested Mr. Houston and myself to prepare for a Mr. Robinson of Colliers magazine, a statement concerning a mythical Mr. X, giving the background and training of a person who would make an ideal intelligence agent, and similarly of a mythical Mr. Y, who would be an ideal evaluator of intelligence material.
