 p. 47-50

The combined BPC-VTI water concentrator for sewing samples of feed water and condensate is described.
 Experiments show that the BPC-VTI concentrator acts identically irrespective of the nature of the impurities in solution, and that above 4-4.5 atm the BPC apparatus becomes unstable. With the combined apparatus the most favorable concentration factor was 18 to 20, the tonnage was 25 kg/hr, and the pressure of the heating agent about 13 atm. The stabilized concentration provides for a test sample with various impurities per mits the apparatus to be used for continuous control of
