ESPIONAGE

United States espionage statutes proscribe gathering information or material relating to the national defense and/or delivering, transmitting or communicating it to any person not entitled to receive it or to any foreign government with the intent or reason to believe that it is to be used to the injury of the United States or to the advantage of a foreign nation. (See United States Code, Title 18, Chapter 37).

INTELLIGENCE DEFINITIONS WORKING GROUP

31 January 1978

1. The Group agreed to give the Acting Chairman editorial license to correct punctuation and other matters of form in the glossary. The Acting Chairman agreed to asterisk any definitions so changed.

2. The Group modified the definition of Intelligence which was agreed upon at the previous meeting. The amended version is as shown in the attached glossary.

3. The FBI member circulated a proposed addition to the definition of Espionage, which is attached. This item will be considered at a later meeting.

4. Turning to the "Loose-ends List," the Group accepted the definition of Combat Information but marked for later review the definitional relationships of this term to combat intelligence, tactical information, and tactical intelligence.

5. The Group dealt with the definitions of SI, SAO, and SSO while a representative from the DCI's Security Committee (SECOM) was present to offer advice. While definitions were established, only SAO and SSO are shown in the current glossary. The NSA and USAF members could not subscribe to the proposed definition of SI as one which could legitimately be considered to be unclassified. It has therefore been tabled pending further consideration by SECOM, and pending consideration by the Group of an unclassified definition proposed by NSA.

6. The Group then completed the "Loose-ends List" by defining Foreign Affairs Community, Guidance, HUMINT, and three related terms, and Indications and Warning. The term Collection Guidance was added as a reference to Guidance.

7. The next meeting of the Working Group will begin at 1330, 7 February 1978, CHB Room 5S09, with consideration of Case Officer, Intelligence Officer, and Political Intelligence, followed by NSA's candidate lists.

Acting Chairman

STAT

DEFINITIONS WORKING GROUP
APPROVED DEFINITIONS AS OF 31 JANUARY 1978

ACTIONABLE INTELLIGENCE: Intelligence information that is directly useful to consumers without having to go through the full intelligence production process. It may address strategic or tactical needs, or close-support of US negotiating teams or action elements dealing with such matters as international terrorism or narcotics.

ADVISORY TASKING: A non-directive statement of intelligence interest or a request for intelligence information which is addressed by an authorized element of the Intelligence Community to departments or agencies having information collection capabilities or intelligence assets not a part of the National Foreign Intelligence Program.

AGENT: A person other than an officer, employee or co-opted worker of an intelligence service who under the direction of that service engages in clandestine intelligence activity.

AGENT OF INFLUENCE: A person who is manipulated by an intelligence service to use his position to influence public opinion or decisionmaking in a manner which will advance the objective of the country for which that service operates.

ALERT MEMORANDUM: A document issued by the DCI to NSC-level policymakers to warn them of possible developments abroad, often of a crisis nature, of major concern to the US. Alert Memoranda are coordinated within the Intelligence Community to the extent time permits.

ANALYSIS: A process in the intelligence cycle in which information is subjected to review in order to identify significant facts and derive conclusions therefrom.

ASSESS: To appraise the worth of an intelligence activity, information, or product in terms of its contribution to a specific goal, or the credibility, reliability, pertinency, accuracy, usefulness of information in terms of an intelligence need. When used in contrast with "evaluate," assess implies a weighing against resource allocation, expenditure, or risk (See Evaluate).

BASIC INTELLIGENCE: Comprises general reference material of a factual nature which results from a collection of encyclopedic information relating to the political, economic and military structure, resources, capabilities and vulnerabilities of foreign nations.

BIOGRAPHIC(AL) INTELLIGENCE: Foreign intelligence on the views, traits, habits, skills, importance, relationships and curriculum vitae of those foreign personalities of actual or potential interest to the United States Government.

CARTOGRAPHIC INTELLIGENCE: Intelligence primarily manifested in maps and charts of areas outside the United States and its territorial waters.

CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY PROGRAM (CIAP): See National Foreign Intelligence Program.

CIPHER: A cryptosystem in which the cryptographic treatment (i.e., the method of transforming plain-text by predetermined rules to obscure or conceal its meaning) is applied to plain-text elements (such as letters, digits, polygraphs or bits) which either have no intrinsic meaning or are treated without regard to their meaning (e.g., if the element is a natural-language word).

CLANDESTINE: Secret or hidden; conducted with secrecy by design.

CLANDESTINE ACTIVITY: Secret or hidden activity conducted with secrecy by design. (The phrase "clandestine operation" is preferred. Operations are pre-planned activities.)

CLANDESTINE COLLECTION: The acquisition of intelligence information in ways designed to assure the secrecy of the operation.

CLANDESTINE OPERATION: An intelligence information collection activity or covert political, economic, propaganda and paramilitary activity conducted so as to assure the secrecy of the operation. Encompasses both clandestine collection and covert action.

CLANDESTINE SERVICES: That portion of the CIA that engages in clandestine activity; sometimes used as synonymous with the CIA Operations Directorate.

CLASSIFICATION AUTHORITY: Those officials within the Executive Branch who have been authorized pursuant to an Executive Order to originally classify information or material.

CODE: A cryptosystem in which the cryptographic equivalents (usually called "code groups"), typically consisting of letters or digits (or both) in otherwise meaningless combinations, are substituted for plain text elements such as words, phrases, or sentences.

COLLECTION: See Intelligence Cycle.

* COLLECTION GUIDANCE: See Guidance.

COLLECTION REQUIREMENT: An expression of intelligence information needs which has been sanctioned by the resource manager and carries at least an implicit authorization to the field collector to commit resources in acquiring the needed information. (Also see Intelligence Requirement.)

* COMBAT INFORMATION: Unevaluated sensor data, gathered by or provided directly to the tactical commander which, due to its highly perishable nature or the criticality of the situation, cannot be processed into tactical intelligence in time to satisfy the user tactical intelligence requirements. (From the Nat/Tac report to Congress.)

COMBAT INTELLIGENCE: That knowledge of the enemy, weather, and geographical features required by a commander in the planning and conduct of combat operations.

CONSOLIDATED CRYPTOLOGIC PROGRAM (CCP): See National Foreign Intelligence Program.

COMMITTEE ON EXCHANGES (COMEX): See Director of Central Intelligence Committee.

COMMITTEE ON IMAGERY REQUIREMENTS AND EXPLOITATION (COMIREX): See Director of Central Intelligence Committee.

COMMUNICATIONS INTELLIGENCE (COMINT): Technical and intelligence information derived from intercept of foreign communications by other than the intended recipients. COMINT does not include the monitoring of foreign public media nor the intercept of oral or written communication obtained during the course of foreign counterintelligence investigations within the United States.

COMMUNICATIONS SECURITY (COMSEC): The protection resulting from the application of any measures taken to deny unauthorized persons information of value which might be derived from telecommunications or to ensure the authenticity of such telecommunications.

COMPARTMENTATION: Formal systems of restricted access established and/or managed by the DCI to protect the sensitive aspects of sources, methods, and analytical procedures of foreign intelligence programs.

COMPROMISE: The exposure of classified official information or activities to persons not authorized access thereto.

COMPUTER SECURITY: The means and procedures to provide protection for information processed and/or stored in Automated Data Processing (ADP) systems and networks.

CONSOLIDATED INTELLIGENCE RESOURCES INFORMATION SYSTEM (CIRIS): The automated management information system used to identify and display the expected distribution of all intelligence resources within the National Foreign Intelligence Program.

CONSUMER: See Customer.

CO-OPTED WORKER: A national of a country but not an officer or employee of the country's intelligence service who assists that service on a temporary or regular basis. (In most circumstances a co-opted worker is an official of the country but can also be a tourist, student, etc.)

COORDINATION: The process of seeking concurrence from one or more groups, organizations, and agencies regarding a proposal or an activity for which they share some responsibility, and which may result in contributions, concurrences or dissents. In the production of intelligence, the process by which producers gain the views or other producers on the adequacy of a specific draft assessment, estimate, or report. Coordination is intended to increase a product's factual accuracy, clarify its judgments, resolve disagreement on issues that permit, and sharpen statements of disagreement on major unresolved issues.

COVER: Protective guise used by a person, organization, or installation to prevent identification with clandestine activities.

COVERT: See Clandestine. Covert Action has special meaning. See below.

COVERT ACTION: A clandestine operation designed to influence foreign governments, events, organizations, or persons in support of United States foreign policy. Covert action may include political and economic action, propaganda, and paramilitary activities.

COVERT OPERATION: See "clandestine operation" (preferred term). A covert operation encompasses covert action and clandestine collection.

CRYPTOLOGIC ACTIVITIES: The activities and operations involved in the production of signals intelligence and the maintenance of communications security.

CRYPTOLOGY: The branch of knowledge which treats the principles of cryptography and cryptanalytics and is used to produce signals intelligence and maintain communications security.

CRITICAL COLLECTION PROBLEMS COMMITTEE (CCPC): See Director of Central Intelligence Committee.

CRYPTOSEcurity: The component of communications security that results from the provision of technically sound cryptosystems and for their proper use.

CRYPTOGRAPHIC SYSTEM: All associated items of cryptomaterial (e.g., equipments and their removable components which perform cryptographic functions, operating instructions, maintenance manuals) that are used as a unit to provide a single means of encryption and decryption of plain text, so that its meaning may be concealed. (In addition, code, cipher, and cryptographic systems include any mechanical or electrical device or method used for the purpose of disguising, authenticating, or concealing the contents, significance, or meanings of communications.)

CRYPTOSYSTEM: See Cryptographic System.

CURRENT INTELLIGENCE: Intelligence of all types and forms of immediate interest to the users of intelligence; it is usually disseminated without the delays incident to complete evaluation or interpretation.

CUSTOMER: A person who uses intelligence or intelligence information either to produce other intelligence or directly in the decisionmaking process. Synonymous with Consumer and User.

* DAMAGE ASSESSMENT: (1) (Intelligence Community Context.) An evaluation of the impact of a compromise in terms of loss of intelligence information, sources or methods, and which may describe and/or recommend measures to minimize damage and prevent future compromises. (2) (Military Intelligence Context.) An appraisal of the effects of an attack on a nation's military forces to determine residual military capability and to support planning for recovery and reconstitution.

DCID 1/2 ATTACHMENT: An annual publication by the Director of Central Intelligence (DCI) which establishes a priorities classification system. The publication presents requirements categories and foreign countries in a geotopical matrix, against which priorities are assigned which provide the Intelligence Community with basic substantive priorities guidance for the conduct of all U.S. foreign intelligence activities. The document includes a system for adjusting priorities between annual publications. Priorities are approved by the DCI with the advice of the National Foreign Intelligence Board. (See Priority.)

DECEPTION: Those measures designed to mislead a foreign power, organization or person by manipulation, distortion, or falsification of evidence to induce him to react in a manner prejudicial to his interests.

DECLASSIFY: To remove official information from the protective status afforded by security classification.

DECOMPARTMENTATION: The removal of information from a compartmentation system without attempting to conceal the source.

DEFECTOR: A national of a designated country who has escaped from the control of such country, or who, being outside such jurisdiction and control, is unwilling to return thereto and is of special value to another government because he is able to add valuable new or confirmatory information to existing knowledge about his country.

* DEFENSE INTELLIGENCE COMMUNITY: Refers to Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA), National Security Agency (NSA) and the Military Services intelligence offices including Department of Defense (DoD) collectors of specialized intelligence through reconnaissance programs.

DEPARTMENT(AL) INTELLIGENCE: Foreign intelligence produced and used within a governmental department or agency in order to meet unique requirements of the department or agency mission.

DIRECTION FINDING (DF): A procedure for obtaining bearings on radio frequency emitters with the use of a directional antenna and a display unit on an intercept receiver of ancillary equipment.

DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE (DCI): The President's principal foreign intelligence adviser appointed by him with the consent of the Senate to be the head of the Intelligence Community and Director of the Central Intelligence Agency and to discharge those authorities and responsibilities as they are prescribed by law and by Presidential and National Security Council directives.

DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE COMMITTEE: A committee established by the Director of Central Intelligence (DCI) to advise him and to perform whatever functions he shall determine. DCI Committees usually deal with Intelligence Community concerns, and their terms of reference ordinarily are specified in DCI Directives. (See DCID.)

DIRECTOR OF CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE DIRECTIVE (DCID): A directive issued by the DCI which outlines general policies and procedures to be followed by intelligence agencies and organizations which are under his direction or overview.

DISAFFECTED PERSON: A person who is a potential defector and who either through inducement or voluntary action has indicated the willingness or desire to defect.

DISSEMINATION: See Intelligence Cycle.

DOMESTIC COLLECTION: The acquisition of foreign intelligence information within the United States from governmental or nongovernmental organizations or individuals who are witting sources and choose to cooperate by sharing such information.

DOMESTIC SECURITY MEASURE: An internal activity undertaken by the United States Government to protect the nation from acts of force or violence (not conducted pursuant to the direction of a foreign entity) in violation of Federal law and intended to overthrow or substantially impair the functioning of the United States Government or the government of a state; to substantially interfere with the legal activities of a foreign government in the United States; or to deprive persons of their civil rights.

DOUBLE AGENT: An agent who is cooperating with an intelligence service of one government on behalf of and under the control of an intelligence or security service of another government, and is manipulated by one to the detriment of the other.

DOWNGRADE: To change the security classification of official information from a higher to a lower level.

* ECONOMIC INTELLIGENCE: Foreign intelligence concerning the production, distribution and consumption of goods and services, labor, finance, taxation, and other aspects of the international economic system.

ECONOMIC INTELLIGENCE COMMITTEE (EIC): See Director of Central Intelligence Committee.

ELECTRO-OPTICAL INTELLIGENCE (ELECTRO-OPTINT): See Optical Intelligence.

ELECTRONIC COUNTERMEASURES (ECM): That division of electronic warfare involving actions taken to prevent or reduce an enemy's effective use of the electromagnetic spectrum. ECM includes electronic jamming, which is the deliberate radiation, reradiation, or reflection of electromagnetic energy with the object of impairing the uses of electronic equipment used by an enemy; and electronic deception, which is similar but is intended to mislead an enemy in the interpretation of information received by his electronic system.

ELECTRONICS INTELLIGENCE (ELINT): Technical and intelligence information derived from foreign noncommunications electromagnetic radiations emanating from other than atomic detonation or radioactive sources.

ELECTRONIC ORDER OF BATTLE (EOB): A listing of non-communications electronic devices including site designation, nomenclature, location, site function and any other pertinent information obtained from any source which has military significance when related to the foreign devices.

ELECTRONIC WARFARE (EW): Military action involving the use of electromagnetic energy to determine, exploit, reduce, or prevent hostile use of the electromagnetic spectrum, and action which retains friendly use of the electromagnetic spectrum.

EMIGRE: A person who departs from his country for any lawful reason with the intention of resettling elsewhere.

EMISSION SECURITY: The component of communications security which results from all measures taken to deny to unauthorized persons information of value which might be derived from interception and analysis of compromising emanations from crypto-equipment and telecommunications systems.

* END PRODUCT: See Finished Intelligence. (Also see Product.)

ENERGY INTELLIGENCE: Foreign intelligence relating to the technical, economic and political capabilities and programs of foreign countries to engage in development, utilization and commerce of basic and advanced energy technologies. Energy intelligence includes the location and extent of foreign energy resources and their allocation; foreign government energy policies, plans and programs; new and improved foreign energy technologies; and economic and security aspects of foreign energy supply, demand, production distribution, and utilization.

ESPIONAGE: Intelligence activity directed toward the acquisition of information through clandestine means.

ESSENTIAL ELEMENTS OF INFORMATION (EEI): Those items of information regarding a foreign power, forces or targets and their environment essential for timely decisions.

ESTIMATIVE INTELLIGENCE: A category of intelligence production which attempts to project future foreign developments and their implications for U.S. interests, whether of a national or departmental character. Estimative Intelligence may or may not be coordinated.

EVALUATE: To appraise the worth of an intelligence activity, information, or product in terms of its contribution to a specific goal, or the credibility, reliability, pertinency, accuracy, usefulness of information in terms of an intelligence need. Evaluation may be used without reference to cost or risk, particularly when used in contrast with "assess." (See Assess.)

EVASION AND ESCAPE (E&E): The procedures and operations whereby military personnel and other selected individuals are enabled to emerge from enemy-held or hostile areas under friendly control.

EVASION AND ESCAPE INTELLIGENCE: Processed information prepared to assist personnel to evade capture if lost in enemy-dominated territory or to escape if captured.

FINISHED INTELLIGENCE: The result of the Production step of the Intelligence Cycle. (See Intelligence Cycle.)

* FOREIGN AFFAIRS COMMUNITY: Those U.S. Government departments, agencies, and other organizations which are represented in U.S. diplomatic missions abroad; and Executive Branch entities which may not be represented abroad but are significantly involved in international activities with the governments of other nations.

FOREIGN COUNTERINTELLIGENCE (FCI): Intelligence activity, with its resultant product, devoted to countering the effectiveness of foreign intelligence activities and undertaken to protect the security of the United States, its personnel, information and installations against espionage, sabotage, and terrorism. Foreign counterintelligence does not include personnel, physical, document, or communications security programs.

FOREIGN INSTRUMENTATION SIGNALS INTELLIGENCE (FISINT): Information derived from the collection and processing of foreign telemetry, beaconry, and associated signals.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE (FI): The product of collection, processing, and analysis of foreign intelligence information relating to the national security, to the foreign relations or economic interests of the United States by a government agency that is assigned an intelligence mission.

FOREIGN MATERIEL (FORMAT) INTELLIGENCE: Intelligence derived from the exploitation of foreign materiel.

FOREIGN OFFICIAL: A foreign national acting in an official capacity on behalf of a foreign power, attached to a foreign diplomatic establishment or an establishment under the control of a foreign power, or employed by a public international organization.

FORWARD LOOKING INFRARED (FLIR): An airborne system used for producing infrared ground images the dimensions of which are determined by the forward motion of the aircraft and by scanning across its flight path.

FUSION: In the military operational context, the blending of intelligence with operational information; or, in the tactical intelligence context, the blending of information from multiple sources to produce a single intelligence product.

FUSION CENTER: A term referring to an organizational activity, associated with the Department of Defense and under the control and supervision of a field commander, having the responsibility of blending both compartmented intelligence with all other available intelligence in order to support military operations. (See Actionable Intelligence and Tactical Intelligence.)

GENERAL DEFENSE INTELLIGENCE PROGRAM (GDIP): See National Foreign Intelligence Program.

GEOGRAPHIC (AL) INTELLIGENCE: Foreign intelligence dealing with the location, description, and analysis of physical and cultural factors of the world, (e.g., terrain, climate, natural resources, transportation, boundaries, population distribution) and their changes through time.

* GUIDANCE: Advice which identifies, interprets, clarifies, and/or expands upon intelligence information needs.

* HUMAN INTELLIGENCE (HUMINT): A category of intelligence information derived from human sources. (See Human Source Reporting and Human Resources Collection.)

* HUMAN RESOURCES COLLECTION: All activities which attend collection of intelligence information from human sources. (See Human Intelligence and Human Source.)

HUMAN RESOURCES COMMITTEE (HRC): See Director of Central Intelligence Committee.

* HUMAN SOURCE: A person who wittingly or unwittingly conveys by any means information of potential intelligence value to an intelligence activity.

* HUMAN SOURCE REPORTING: The flow of intelligence information from those who gather it to the customer. Human source reporting may come from information gathering activities within and outside the Intelligence Community. A form of the term is also used to denote an item of information being conveyed, as in "Human Source Report." (See Human Intelligence.)

ILLEGAL: An officer or employee of an intelligence service dispatched abroad who has no overt connection with the intelligence service with which he is connected or with the government operating that intelligence service.

ILLEGAL AGENT: An agent operated by an illegal residency or directly from the headquarters of an intelligence service.

ILLEGAL RESIDENCY: An intelligence establishment in a foreign country composed of one or more intelligence officers and possibly one or more employees which has no overt connection with the intelligence service involved or with the government of the country operating the intelligence service.

IMAGERY: Representations of objects reproduced electronically or by optical means on film, electronic display devices, or other media.

IMAGERY INTELLIGENCE: The collected products of imagery interpretation processed for intelligence use.

IMAGERY INTERPRETATION: The process of location, recognition, identification, and description of objects, activities, and terrain represented by imagery.

- * INDICATIONS AND WARNING (I&W): Those intelligence activities intended to detect and report on time-sensitive intelligence information on foreign developments that could involve a threat to U.S. or allied military, political, or economic interests, or to U.S. citizens abroad. I&W encompasses forewarning of: enemy hostile actions or intentions; the imminence of hostilities; serious insurgency; nuclear/non-nuclear attack on the U.S., its overseas forces, or allied nations; hostile reactions to U.S. reconnaissance activities; terrorist attacks; and any other events significantly threatening U.S. interests.

INFORMATION HANDLING COMMITTEE (IHC): See Director of Central Intelligence Committee.

INFORMATION(AL) NEED: The requirement of an official involved in the policymaking process or the intelligence production process of the US Government for the best available information and intelligence on which to base policy decisions, recommendations, or intelligence production.

INFRARED IMAGERY: That imagery produced as a result of sensing electromagnetic radiations emitted or reflected from a given target surface in the infrared portion of the electromagnetic spectrum.

INFRARED INTELLIGENCE: See Optical Intelligence.

INTEGRATION: A process in the intelligence cycle in which a pattern is formed through the selection and combination of evaluated information.

- * INTELLIGENCE: (1) Knowledge acquired and furnished in response to the known or perceived requirements of decision-makers which is derived principally from information which is normally concealed or not intended to be available for use by the acquirer. Intelligence is the product of a cyclical process. (See Intelligence Cycle.)

Examples:

- Policy development requires good intelligence.
- Timely intelligence is important to informed decisionmaking.

(2) A term used to refer collectively to the functions, activities, or organizations which participate in the process of planning, gathering, and analyzing information of value to decisionmakers and to the production of intelligence as defined in (1) above. (See Foreign Intelligence and Foreign Counterintelligence.)

Examples:

- Human source collection is an important intelligence activity.
- Central Intelligence Agency.
- Intelligence is a demanding profession.

INTELLIGENCE ACTIVITIES: A generic term used to describe the efforts and endeavors undertaken by intelligence organizations.

INTELLIGENCE-RELATED ACTIVITIES (IRA): Those activities specifically excluded from the National Foreign Intelligence Program which respond to departmental or agency tasking for time-sensitive information on foreign activities; respond to national Intelligence Community advisory tasking of collection capabilities which have a primary mission to support departmental or agency missions or operational forces; train personnel for intelligence duties; or are devoted to research and development of intelligence or related capabilities.

INTELLIGENCE ASSESSMENT: A category of intelligence production that encompasses most analytical studies dealing with subjects of some policy significance. Assessments are thorough in their treatment of subject matter, as distinct from building-block papers, research projects, and reference aids; but assessments unlike estimates may not attempt to project future developments and their implications. Assessments may or may not be coordinated.

INTELLIGENCE ASSET: Any resource--person, group, instrument, installation, or technical system--at the disposal of an intelligence organization.

INTELLIGENCE COMMUNITY: A term which, in the aggregate, refers to those Executive Branch organizations and activities composed of: the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA); the National Security Agency (NSA); the Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA); offices within the Department of Defense for the collection of specialized national foreign intelligence through reconnaissance programs; the Bureau of Intelligence and Research (INR) of the Department of State; intelligence elements of the military services; intelligence elements of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI); intelligence elements of the Department of Treasury; intelligence elements of the Department of Energy; intelligence elements of the Drug Enforcement Administration; and staff elements of the Office of the Director of Central Intelligence.

INTELLIGENCE COMMUNITY STAFF (IC STAFF): A term referring to an organization under the direction and control of the Director of Central Intelligence (DCI) formed to assist the DCI in discharging his responsibilities relating to the Intelligence Community.

INTELLIGENCE CONSUMER: See Customer.

INTELLIGENCE CYCLE: The processes by which information is converted into intelligence and made available to users. There are usually five steps in the cycle:

- a. PLANNING AND DIRECTION--determination of intelligence requirements, preparation of a collection plan, issuance of orders and requests to information collection agencies, and a continuous check on the productivity of collection agencies.
- b. COLLECTION--acquisition of information and the provision of this information to processing and/or production elements.
- c. PROCESSING--conversion of collected information into a form suitable to the production of intelligence.
- d. PRODUCTION--conversion of information into intelligence through the integration, analysis, evaluation and interpretation of all source data and the preparation of intelligence products in support of known or anticipated user requirements.
- e. DISSEMINATION--conveyance of intelligence to users in a suitable form.

INTELLIGENCE ESTIMATE: The product of Estimative Intelligence.

INTELLIGENCE INFORMATION: Information of potential intelligence value concerning the capabilities, intentions and activities of any foreign power or organization or any associated non-United States person.

INTELLIGENCE INFORMATION REPORT: A report which disseminates foreign intelligence information.

INTELLIGENCE REPORT: A product of the analysis of foreign intelligence information.

INTELLIGENCE REQUIREMENT: Any subject, general or specific, upon which there is a need for the collection of information, or the production of intelligence. (Also see Collection Requirement.)

INTELLIGENCE USER: See Customer.

INTERAGENCY DEFECTOR COMMITTEE (IDC): See Director of Central Intelligence Committee.

INTERAGENCY INTELLIGENCE MEMORANDUM (IIM): A national intelligence assessment or estimate issued by the DCI with the advice of appropriate National Foreign Intelligence Board agencies.

INTERDEPARTMENT (AL) INTELLIGENCE: Integrated department(al) intelligence required by departments and agencies of the U.S. government for the execution of their missions but which transcends the competence or interest of a single department or agency.

INTERNATIONAL TERRORIST ACTIVITIES: Terrorism is the calculated use of violence, or the threat of violence, to attain political goals through fear, intimidation or coercion. It usually involves a criminal act, often symbolic in nature, and is intended to influence an audience beyond the immediate victims. International terrorism is terrorism transcending national boundaries in the carrying out of the act, the purpose of the act, the nationalities of the victims, or the resolution of the incident. These acts are usually designed to attract wide publicity in order to focus attention on the existence, cause, or demands of the perpetrators.

JOINT ATOMIC ENERGY INTELLIGENCE COMMITTEE (JAEIC): See Director of Central Intelligence Committee.

* JOINT INTELLIGENCE: (1) (Military Context.) Intelligence produced by elements of more than one Service of the same nation. (2) (Intelligence Community Context.) Intelligence produced by intelligence organizations of more than one country.

KEY INTELLIGENCE QUESTION (KIQ): A question, issued by the Director of Central Intelligence and part of the Intelligence Community Planning System, which identifies a most important gap or weakness in the intelligence information holdings of the Intelligence Community. A Key Intelligence Question serves to notify the Intelligence Community of a shortcoming which, by its selection and illumination, requires a period of special operational attention. KIQs are usually published annually in a DCI guidance document.

LASER INTELLIGENCE (LASINT): See Optical Intelligence.

LEGAL RESIDENCY: An intelligence establishment in a foreign country composed of intelligence officers and employees assigned as overt representatives of their government.

MEDICAL INTELLIGENCE (MEDINT): Foreign intelligence related to all aspects of foreign natural and man-made environments which could influence the health of military forces. It incorporates General Medical Intelligence (GMI), which is concerned with foreign biological medical capabilities and health situations, and medical Scientific and Technical Intelligence which assesses and predicts technological advances of medical significance, to include defense against Chemical, Biological, Radiological (CBR) Warfare. MEDINT is applied to both tactical and strategic planning and operations, including military and humanitarian efforts.

MILITARY INTELLIGENCE (MI): Current, basic, or estimative intelligence on any foreign military or military-related situation or activity.

MONITOR: To observe, listen to, intercept, record, or transcribe any form of communication or media for intelligence collection or communications security purposes, either overtly or covertly.

NATIONAL ESTIMATE: (See National Intelligence Estimate.)

NATIONAL FOREIGN ASSESSMENT CENTER (NFAC): An organization established by, and under the control and supervision of, the Director of Central Intelligence, which is responsible for production of national intelligence.

NATIONAL FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE BOARD (NFIB): A body formed to provide the Director of Central Intelligence (DCI) with advice concerning: production, review, and coordination of national foreign intelligence; the National Foreign Intelligence Program budget; interagency exchanges of foreign intelligence information; arrangements with foreign governments on intelligence matters; the protection of intelligence sources and methods; activities of common concerns; and such other matters as are referred to it by the DCI. The NFIB is composed of the DCI (chairman), and the appropriate officers of the Central Intelligence Agency, Department of State, Department of Defense, Department of Justice, Department of Treasury, Department of Energy, the offices within the Department of Defense for reconnaissance programs, the Defense Intelligence Agency, the National Security Agency, and the Federal Bureau of Investigation. The senior intelligence officer of the Army, Navy, and Air Force participate in NFIB matters as observers.

NATIONAL FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE PROGRAM (NFIP): A program aggregating the programs of the Central Intelligence Agency; the Consolidated Cryptologic Program, and the programs of the offices within the Department of Defense for the collection of specialized national foreign intelligence through reconnaissance (except such elements as the DCI and the Secretary of Defense agree should be excluded); the elements of the General Defense Intelligence Program and other programs of agencies within the Intelligence Community designated by the Director of Central Intelligence and the head of the department as national foreign intelligence or national foreign counterintelligence activities; and activities of the staff elements of the Office of the Director of Central Intelligence.

NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE: Foreign intelligence produced under the aegis of the Director of Central Intelligence and intended primarily to be responsive to the needs of the President, the National Security Council and other Federal officials involved in the formulation and execution of national security, foreign political and/or economic policy.

NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE ASSET: An intelligence asset, the primary purpose of which is the collection, processing or production of national intelligence. (See National Intelligence.)

NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE ESTIMATE (NIE): A thorough assessment of a situation in the foreign environment which is relevant to the formulation of foreign, economic, and national security policy, and which projects probable future courses of action and developments. It is structured to illuminate differences of view within the Intelligence Community, and is issued by the Director of Central Intelligence with the advice of the National Foreign Intelligence Board.

NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE OFFICER (NIO): The senior staff officer of the DCI and the DCI's Deputy for National Intelligence for an assigned area of substantive responsibility. He also manages estimative and interagency intelligence production on behalf of the DCI. An NIO is, further, the principal point of contact between the DCI and intelligence consumers below the cabinet level. An NIO is also charged with monitoring and coordinating that portion of the National Foreign Assessment Center's production that involves more than one office or that is interdisciplinary in character. Finally, an NIO is a primary source of national-level substantive guidance to Intelligence Community planners, collectors, and resource managers.

NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE TASKING CENTER (NITC): The central organizational mechanism established under the direction, control and management of the Director of Central Intelligence for coordinating and tasking within the National Foreign Intelligence Program activities, and for providing advisory tasking to other intelligence and information gathering activities.

NATIONAL SECURITY: The territorial integrity, sovereignty, and international freedom of action of the United States. Intelligence activities relating to national security encompass all the military, economic, political, scientific and technological and other aspects of foreign developments which pose actual or potential threats to U.S. national interests.

NATIONAL/TACTICAL INTERFACE: A relationship between national and tactical intelligence activities encompassing the full range of fiscal, technical, operational, and programmatic matters.

NEAR-REAL-TIME: The brief interval between the collection of information regarding an event and reception of the data at some other location, caused by the time required for automated processing, communications and display.

NET ASSESSMENT: A comparative review and analysis of opposing national strengths, capabilities, vulnerabilities and weaknesses. An intelligence net assessment involves only foreign countries.

NONCOMMUNICATIONS EMANATIONS: That class of radiations which are emitted intentionally or unintentionally by electrical or electronic equipments for purposes other than communications, e.g., by radars, navigational aids, jammers, or remote control systems.

NUCLEAR INTELLIGENCE (NUCINT): Intelligence derived from the collection and analysis of radiation and other effects resulting from the detonation of nuclear devices or from radioactive sources.

OFFICIAL: See Foreign Official.

OPEN SOURCE INFORMATION: A generic term describing information of potential intelligence value derived from data available to the general public.

OPERATIONAL CONTROL (OPCON): (Military Context) The authority delegated to a commander to direct forces assigned so that the commander may accomplish specific missions or tasks which are usually limited by function, time, or location; to deploy the forces concerned, and to retain or assign tactical control of those forces. It does not, of itself, include administrative or logistic control.

OPERATIONAL INTELLIGENCE (OPINTEL): Intelligence required for planning and executing operations.

OPTICAL INTELLIGENCE (OPTINT): Intelligence derived from data on optical applications using that portion of the electromagnetic spectrum from ultraviolet (0.01 micrometers) through far (long wave length) infrared (1,000 micrometers).

ORDER OF BATTLE (OB): Intelligence pertaining to identification, strength, command structure and disposition of the personnel, units, and equipment of any foreign military force.

OVERT: Open; done without attempt at concealment.

OVERT COLLECTION: The acquisition of intelligence information from public media, observation, government-to-government dialogue, elicitation, and from the sharing of data openly acquired. The collection process may be classified or unclassified. The target and host governments as well as the sources involved normally are aware of the general collection activity although the specific acquisition, sites, and processes may be successfully concealed.

* PERSONNEL SECURITY: The means or procedures--such as selective investigations, record checks, personal interviews, supervisory controls--designed to provide reasonable assurance that persons being considered for or granted access to classified information are loyal and trustworthy.

PHOTOGRAPHIC INTELLIGENCE (PHOTINT): The collected products of photographic interpretation classified and evaluated for intelligence use. Photographic intelligence is a category of Imagery Interpretation.

PHOTOGRAPHIC INTERPRETATION (PI): The process of location, recognition, identification, and description of objects, activities, and terrain represented on photography. Photographic interpretation is a category of Imagery Interpretation.

PHYSICAL SECURITY: Physical measures--such as safes, vaults, perimeter barriers, guard systems, alarms and access controls--designed to safeguard installations against damage, disruption or unauthorized entry; information or material against unauthorized access or theft; and specified personnel against harm.

PLANNING AND DIRECTION: See Intelligence Cycle.

POLICY REVIEW COMMITTEE (As pertains to intelligence matters) (PRC(I)): A committee established under the National Security Council which when meeting under the chairmanship of the Director of Central Intelligence is empowered to define and prioritize substantive intelligence requirements and evaluate analytical product performance. This is sometimes referred to as the Policy Review Committee (Intelligence).

PRIORITY: A value denoting a preferential rating or precedence in position, used to discriminate among like entities. The term is normally used in conjunction with intelligence requirements in order to illuminate importance and to guide the actions planned, being planned, or in use, to respond to the requirements.

PROCESSING: See Intelligence Cycle.

PRODUCT: (1) Finished intelligence reports disseminated by intelligence agencies. (2) In SIGINT usage, intelligence information derived from analysis of SIGINT materials and published as a report or translation for dissemination to customers.

PRODUCTION: See Intelligence Cycle.

* PROLIFERATION INTELLIGENCE: Foreign intelligence relating to (1) scientific, technical and economic capabilities and programs and the political plans and intentions of non-nuclear weapon states (NNWS) or foreign organizations to acquire nuclear weapons and/or to acquire the requisite special nuclear materials (SNM) and to carry on research, development and manufacture of nuclear explosive devices, and; (2) the attitudes, policies and actions of foreign nuclear supplier countries or organizations within these countries toward provision of technologies, facilities or SNM which could assist NNWS or foreign organizations to acquire or develop nuclear explosive devices.

PROPRIETARY: A business entity owned, in whole or in part, or controlled by an intelligence organization and operated to provide private commercial cover for an intelligence activity of that organization.

RADAR INTELLIGENCE (RADINT): Intelligence derived from information collected by radar.

RADIATION INTELLIGENCE (RINT): Intelligence derived from information obtained from unintentional electro-magnetic energy emanating from foreign devices to determine their function and characteristics, excluding nuclear detonations or radioactive sources. (See Noncommunications Emanations.)

RAW INTELLIGENCE: A colloquial term meaning collected intelligence information. (See Intelligence Information.)

RECONNAISSANCE (RECCE): A mission undertaken to obtain by visual observation or other detection methods, information relating to the activities, resources or forces of a foreign nation; or to secure data concerning the meteorological, hydrographic, or geographic characteristics of a particular area.

RECRUITMENT-IN-PLACE: A term pertaining to a person who has been recruited and agrees to retain his position in his organization or government while reporting thereon to an intelligence or security service of a foreign country.

REFUGEE: A person who is outside the country of his former habitual residence, and who, because of fear of being persecuted in that country, is unwilling to return to it.

REPORT: See Intelligence Report and Intelligence Information Report.

REQUIREMENT: See Intelligence Requirement or Collection Requirement.

RESIDENCY: See Illegal Residency and Legal Residency.

SABOTAGE: Action against material, premises or utilities, or other production, which injures, interferes with or obstructs the national security or ability of a nation to prepare for or carry on a war.

SAFE HOUSE: A house or premises controlled by an intelligence service that affords--at least temporarily--security for individuals involved in or equipment used in intelligence operations.

SANITIZATION: The process of concealing sensitive intelligence sources, methods, and analytical procedures in order to permit wider dissemination of information.

SCIENTIFIC AND TECHNICAL (S&T) INTELLIGENCE: Intelligence concerning foreign developments in basic and applied scientific and technical research and development, including engineering and production techniques, new technology, and weapon systems and their capabilities and characteristics. Also included is intelligence which requires scientific or technical expertise on the part of the analyst, such as physical health studies and behavioral analyses.

SCIENTIFIC AND TECHNICAL INTELLIGENCE COMMITTEE (STIC): See Director of Central Intelligence Committee.

SECURITY COMMITTEE (SECOM): See Director of Central Intelligence Committee.

SENSITIVE: Requiring special protection from disclosure to avoid compromise or threat to the security of the sponsor.

SENSITIVE COMPARTMENTED INFORMATION (SCI): All information and material requiring special controls for restricted handling within compartmented foreign intelligence systems.

SENSITIVE INTELLIGENCE SOURCES OR METHODS: A collective term for those persons, organizations, things, conditions, or events that provide intelligence information and those means used in the collection, processing and production of such information which, if compromised, would be vulnerable to counteraction that could reasonably be expected to reduce their ability to support U.S. intelligence activities.

SIDE-LOOKING AIRBORNE RADAR (SLAR): An airborne radar, viewing at right angles to the axis of the vehicle, which produces a presentation of terrain or moving targets.

SIGNALS INTELLIGENCE (SIGINT): A category of intelligence information comprising all communications intelligence, electronics intelligence, and foreign instrumentation signals intelligence, either individually or in combination, including as well nonimagery infrared and coherent light signals.

* SOURCE: A person, device, system or activity from which intelligence information is obtained. (Also see Human Source.)

* SPECIAL ACTIVITIES OFFICE(R) (SAO): A control point for certain categories of compartmented information. The acronym is often used to refer to the compartmented information concerned.

SPECIAL COORDINATION COMMITTEE (SCC): A committee established under the National Security Council which deals with such matters as the oversight of sensitive intelligence activities-- such as covert action--which are undertaken on Presidential authority.

SPECIAL NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE ESTIMATE (SNIE): National Intelligence Estimates (NIEs) which are relevant to specific policy problems that need to be addressed in the immediate future. SNIEs are generally unscheduled, shorter, and prepared more quickly than NIEs and are coordinated within the Intelligence Community only to the extent that time permits.

* SPECIAL SECURITY OFFICE(R) (SSO): A control point for COMINT security procedures within any activity authorized access to COMINT material.

STRATEGIC INTELLIGENCE: Intelligence which is required for the formulation of policy and military plans at national and international levels. Strategic intelligence and tactical intelligence differ primarily in level of use, but may also vary in terms of scope and detail.

STRATEGIC WARNING: Intelligence regarding the threat of the initiation of hostilities against the U.S. or in which U.S. forces may become involved. Strategic Warning may be received at any time, prior to the initiation of hostilities.

SURVEILLANCE: The systematic observation or monitoring of aerospace, surface, or subsurface areas, places, persons, or things by visual, aural, electronic, photographic, or other means.

TACTICAL INTELLIGENCE: That intelligence required by military commanders in the field to maintain the readiness of operating forces for combat operations and to support the planning and conduct of military operations under combat conditions.

TACTICAL INTELLIGENCE ASSET: An intelligence asset, the primary purpose of which is the collection, processing or production of tactical intelligence. (See Tactical Intelligence.)

TARGET: A country, area, installation, organization, weapon system, military force, situation (political or economic), person or other entity against which intelligence operations are directed.

TARGET INTELLIGENCE: Intelligence which portrays and locates the components of a target or target complex and indicates its identification, vulnerability and relative importance.

TASKING: The assignment or direction of an individual or activity to perform in a specified way for achievement of a specified end, objective, or goal.

TELEMETRY INTELLIGENCE (TELINT): Technical and general intelligence information derived from information obtained through the intercept, processing and analysis of foreign telemetry.

TERRORIST ORGANIZATION: A group or organization that engages in terrorist activities. (See International Terrorist Activities.)

TRANSMISSION SECURITY (TRANSEC): The component of communications security which results from all measures designed to protect transmissions from interception and from exploitation by means other than cryptanalysis.

UNAUTHORIZED DISCLOSURE: See Compromise.

UNITED STATES SIGNALS INTELLIGENCE SYSTEM: An entity that is comprised of the National Security Agency (including assigned military personnel); those elements of the military departments and the Central Intelligence Agency performing signals intelligence activities; and those elements of any other department or agency which may from time-to-time be authorized by the National Security Council to perform signals intelligence activities during the time when such elements are so authorized.

USER: See Customer.

VALIDATION: A process normally associated with intelligence collection, which provides official status to an identified requirement and confirms that the requirement is appropriate for a given collector and has not previously been satisfied. (See Collection Requirement.)

WALK-IN: A person who on his own initiative makes contact with a representative of a foreign country and who volunteers information and/or requests political asylum.

any procedures promulgated thereunder until such Attorney General procedures are established. Such Attorney General procedures shall be established as expeditiously as possible after the issuance of this Order.

4-106. In some instances, the documents that implement this Order will be classified because of the sensitivity of the information and its relation to national security. All instructions contained in classified documents will be consistent with this Order. All procedures promulgated pursuant to this Order will be made available to the Congressional intelligence committees in accordance with Section 3-402.

4-107. Unless otherwise specified, the provisions of this Order shall apply to activities both within and outside the United States, and all references to law are to applicable laws of the United States, including the Constitution and this Order. Nothing in this Order shall be construed to apply to or interfere with any authorized civil or criminal law enforcement responsibility of any department or agency.

4-2. Definitions. For the purposes of this Order, the following terms shall have these meanings:

4-201. Communications security means protective measures taken to deny unauthorized persons information derived from telecommunications of the United States Government related to national security and to ensure the authenticity of such telecommunications.

4-202. Counterintelligence means information gathered and activities conducted to protect against espionage and other clandestine intelligence activities, sabotage, international terrorist activities or assassinations conducted for or on behalf of foreign powers, organizations or persons, but not including personnel, physical, document, or communications security programs.

4-203. Electronic Surveillance means acquisition of a nonpublic communication by electronic means without the consent of a person who is a party to an electronic communication or, in the case of a nonelectronic communication, without the consent of a person who is visibly present at the place of communication, but not including the use of radio direction finding equipment solely to determine the location of a transmitter.

4-204. Employee means a person employed by, assigned to, or acting for an agency within the Intelligence Community.

4-205. Foreign Intelligence means information relating to the capabilities, intentions and activities of foreign powers, organizations or persons, but not including counterintelligence except for information on international terrorist activities.

4-206. Intelligence means foreign intelligence and counterintelligence.

4-207. Intelligence Community and agency or agencies within the Intelligence Community refer to the following organizations:

more

- (a) The Central Intelligence Agency (CIA);
- (b) The National Security Agency (NSA);
- (c) The Defense Intelligence Agency;
- (d) The Offices within the Department of Defense for the collection of specialized national foreign intelligence through reconnaissance programs;
- (e) The Bureau of Intelligence and Research of the Department of State;
- (f) The intelligence elements of the military services, the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), the Department of the Treasury, the Department of Energy, and the Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA); and
- (g) The staff elements of the Office of the Director of Central Intelligence.

4-208. Intelligence product means the estimates, memoranda and other reports produced from the analysis of available information.

4-209. International terrorist activities means any activity or activities which:

- (a) involves killing, causing serious bodily harm, kidnapping, or violent destruction of property, or an attempt or credible threat to commit such acts; and
- (b) appears intended to endanger a protectee of the Secret Service or the Department of State or to further political, social or economic goals by intimidating or coercing a civilian population or any segment thereof, influencing the policy of a government or international organization by intimidation or coercion, or obtaining widespread publicity for a group or its cause; and
- (c) transcends national boundaries in terms of the means by which it is accomplished, the civilian population, government, or international organization it appears intended to coerce or intimidate, or the locale in which its perpetrators operate or seek asylum.

4-210. The National Foreign Intelligence Program includes the programs listed below, but its composition shall be subject to review by the National Security Council and modification by the President.

- (a) The programs of the CIA;
- (b) The Consolidated Cryptologic Program, the General Defense Intelligence Program, and the programs of the offices within the Department of Defense for the collection of specialized national foreign intelligence through reconnaissance except such elements as the Director of Central Intelligence and the Secretary of Defense agree should be excluded;

(c) Other programs of agencies within the Intelligence Community designated jointly by the Director of Central Intelligence and the head of the department or by the President as national foreign intelligence or counter-intelligence activities;

(d) Activities of the staff elements of the Office of the Director of Central Intelligence.

(e) Activities to acquire the intelligence required for the planning and conduct of tactical operations by the United States military forces are not included in the National Foreign Intelligence Program.

4-211. Physical surveillance means an unconsented, systematic and deliberate observation of a person by any means on a continuing basis, or unconsented acquisition of a nonpublic communication by a person not a party thereto or visibly present thereat through any means not involving electronic surveillance. This definition does not include overhead reconnaissance not directed at specific United States persons.

4-212. Special activities means activities conducted abroad in support of national foreign policy objectives which are designed to further official United States programs and policies abroad and which are planned and executed so that the role of the United States Government is not apparent or acknowledged publicly, and functions in support of such activities, but not including diplomatic activity or the collection and production of intelligence or related support functions.

4-213. United States, when used to describe a place, includes the territories of the United States.

4-214. United States person means a citizen of the United States, an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence, an unincorporated association organized in the United States or substantially composed of United States citizens or aliens admitted for permanent residence, or a corporation incorporated in the United States.
