

30 Apr 81

Dennis:

Your expressed concern about the retroactivity of the promotion being corrected when an employee appeal the date with regard to the PSIX caused me to double check with Pete on my advice. He agrees that it is sound. Thinking even further, I recalled that the OPM 20-60-4 says that all promotions are to be in OP at the scheduled date, including those being deferred for WGI. Assuming that that's happening, then the issue of ~~retroactive~~ retroactivity is of even lesser concern because the promotion would have been stamped in at the right time to allow you to handle it routinely. If offices are not submitting the ones that are being ~~deferred~~ deferred at the same time as the others, then you have a different problem.

STAT

file - Promotion / back pay / retroactive case

9/81