LOGNOTE -- Chief, Operations Group, 12 June 1985

1.

STAT

Zimmer went on to ask about some of his messages. He said he had taken care of minor matters in service messages and phone calls, but wondered if this was the best way to do business. I said we didn't want to live through every gasp and pant of the construction project. He should wait until he has something concrete to report and then do it by admin message or by cable so that everyone who should be consulted had a chance to be involved.
