1. [] Following from this morning's staff meeting:

- OSO is proposing a secure Wang system which will link all the office directors with each other and DD/S&T. A committee has been set up to look into the security problems.
- As reported earlier, DDCI has been on the Hill trying to get the FOIA dropped or amended. He has received unexpected support from ACLU who also feel the law should be changed.
- Registry reports some very strange packages going through the mails. There will be a tighter check in packages going to the bureaus.
- The IG has started a program of using personnel from other components on four-month rotations to look into specific problems. FBIS no doubt will be tapped to participate.
- DCI is predicting that after the election there will be changes in the retirement programs for government employees. This looks like a sure thing. O/P is trying to make the case that the Agency should have its own retirement program (so is State), but no one holds out much hope for this.
