87 elena (krevetskaya), soviet historian, recalling 28 oct 1924 as date marking beginning of diplomatic relations btwn france and ussr. lenin himself saw relations btwn two countries as central. in 1917 french bourgeois rejected the then newly born soviet republic but worker's of france as well as progressive intellectuals sided with soviet republic. second world war saw revival of sov-french coop in struggle against fascism. after war french ldrs joined cold war launched by washington. france's policy was then made in washington not in paris in 60s france was one of first large capitalist country to abandon concept of cold war which was marked by de gaulle's visit to ussr in 1966. bilateral relations were very fruitful: agmt on euro-siberian gas pipeline was signed in 1982. on other hand it seems french socialist ldrs are undoing existing links by aligning themselves with america. ussr will not take initiative of destroying what has been achieved by common efforts of our two countries. it is convinced france's and ussr's vital interests will get upper hand.
