SUBJECT: MIAS Briefing to the Secretary of the Army, 5 January 1984 (U)

1. (S/CL-4/NOFORN) On 5 January 1984 from 1405 to 1435 hours, LTC Brian Buzby and Mr. Fred Atwater, INSCOM CENTER LANE Project, met with Secretary of the Army, The Honorable John A. Marsh at the Pentagon to discuss Mr. Robert Monroe, The Monroe Institute of Applied Sciences (MIAS) and INSCOM involvement with MIAS. LTC Gerald Fox, DAMI-ISH, ACSI, DA and LTC Larry Brewer, Assistant Executive Officer to the Secretary of the Army also were present. Approximately 15 minutes into the meeting, LTG ^{Ans} Arthur E. Brown, Director of the Army Staff, walked into the meeting. LTC Buzby began the meeting by handing the Secretary the information paper on Mr. Monroe and MIAS and then, at the Secretary's request, summarized the contents of the paper. A copy of the information paper is attached as inclosure 1.

2. (S/CL-4/NOFORN) Upon completion of the discussion on the contents of the paper, the Secretary of the Army asked a series of questions on RAPT, CENTER LANE and MIAS. Information on the following areas was provided to the Secretary:

- a. (U) Additional background information on Mr. Monroe and the MIAS organization.
- b. (U) The application and benefits of MIAS training to INSCOM.

c. (S/CL-4/NOFORN) INSCOM's use of MIAS which included an explanation of RAPT training, the CENTER LANE use of Mr. Monroe ✓ in a personal services contract, the number of INSCOM personnel who have attended RAPT training, and the number of CENTER LANE ✓ personnel who have received Hemi-Sync training. I placed emphasis on the point that RAPT was a screening vehicle for selection of personnel for future integration into the CENTER LANE Program. Also included in the discussion was a brief explanation of a current CENTER LANE project and the use of the remote viewing process in intelligence collection and how the Monroe "one-on-one" training refined the remote viewing process. // *

d. (S/CL-4/NOFORN) After the explanation of the "one-on-one" Hemi-Sync training for CENTER LANE sources, the Secretary asked if the training was in violation of Congressional directives on human experimentation. Mr. Atwater stated that the individual that received the training signed a statement of informed consent form as required by Department of the Army and Department of Defense directives. LTC Fox then reviewed the DA and DoD legal review process that lead to the Secretary's approval of CENTER LANE as a human use project. I added that all personnel associated with CENTER LANE signed an informed consent form. I concluded the discussion by telling the Secretary I guaranteed that CENTER LANE human use procedures were correct and in compliance with appropriate directives and regulations. The Secretary added "good." // *

e. (S/CL-3/NOFORN) LTC Fox, Mr. Atwater and I then responded to the Secretary's questions on whether we had met Mr. Monroe and what our impressions of him and the MIAS were. All three individuals provided positive responses. ✓

3. (U) The Secretary concluded the discussions at approximately 1435 hours. He thanked the participants and stated he would see them again soon. ✓

4. (S/CL-3/NOFORN) After discussions with the Secretary, LTC Fox, Mr. Atwater and LTC Buzby met with LTC Brewer from 1435 to 1505 hours. The purpose of the meeting was to determine the status of the Secretary's current interest in Monroe, CENTER LANE and the Monroe process. LTC Brewer anticipated that the Secretary would probably request additional information on MIAS and he wanted to be prepared to respond to that request. I recommended that if the Secretary wanted additional information on MIAS that he should consider a visit to the Institute and a "one-on-one" session with Mr. Monroe. I offered to set up such a meeting if that was desired. I recommended that it be no less than two days. LTC Brewer accepted the offer and indicated he would contact us later. LTC Brewer was unable to provide a definitive reason that explained the Secretary's current interest in the Monroe Institute or MIAS training. He did state that the Secretary has had an interest in individual personal improvement for many years and the current interest was just a fall-out of that interest. //
