1. (S/NF/SK) TASKING: Explore/<sub>search</sub> site for target.
2. (S/NF/SK) SESSION: A photo of building + draft copy of operational results to date <sup>were</sup> placed in an envelope, coordinates were encrypted. After source ~~received~~ <sup>was</sup> produced a single structure ideogram. He was instructed to ~~turn~~ <sup>turn</sup> his attention to it. After doing so, and describing a building, he was informed that his target was a "group of people who meet in this building." Session proceeded in the usual manner from this point on.
3. (see next page)
4. (S/NF/SK): ~~From~~ FEEDBACK: Source was informed that he was on target.

Session #5 - cont.

3. (S/NP/SK) Summary: Site is one of several structures on land. Structure is suggestive of a comfortable, multi-storied office building; with carpets on the floor, rooms and corridors; possibly a red tiled roof. A group of people meet inside who wear dark clothing. They confer, consult together. Their meetings are exclusive & confidential. One individual in the group is articulated and impassioningly advocating a specific course of action that is combative, belligerent and inflexible. He has some qualified support from one or two people present. The others are neutral or opposed to his position. Strong sentiment in the group that 'anything is negotiable' as long as their side is not placed at a disadvantage. The impassioned individual doesn't want to give an inch. There is a prevailing sense in the group of tiredness and concern - almost an abstract fear - as if the participants are sick of chronic high tension and living on the edge and ~~want to move towards~~ want to move toward a more stable, less tense, level of existence. Possibly that this group represents the Soviet side of SALT; not the negotiating team, but a body that has policy-making powers (somewhere far up the chain of command).

There are between 20 and 30 (men) present. A sense of both military and civilian, not clearly defined between the two. The ~~room~~ meeting room has hard, shiny floors with a black, red and brown pattern in it. Ceiling is fairly high, possibly arched upwards, w/a decorative frieze around the edge. The walls are light-colored and
