Summary of Information

The target individual is located somewhere around, but not within, the Middle East per se. There are buildings with white surfaces reminiscent of stucco. These have open doorways and windows without glass. There are numerous gold or brass objects, many of which appear as brass rings. There is a tri-lobed structure of gray stone or concrete with three rectangular openings on one end. There is a large face in profile

The air is hot and appears "yellowish". There is a stench of street smells which include a sharp, acidic smell like urine; a smell of rotten "organics"; and a sharp, chemical smell reminiscent of an industrial solvent. There is the smell of leather and a smell of water, as if there is a breeze coming off of a large body of water. There is a smell of crushed seeds or nuts; not peanut butter, but similar.

The surrounding "wilderness" abruptly comes and meets the edge of the city on one side. It's as if the natural environment is "sweeping" in and encroaching upon this side of the city. Looking out of my vantage window, this area is on my left.

This place feels third world, middle-east like, but it isn't the Middle East. It wants to take me south.

Location of target is perceived to be the vicinity of KAMPALA, UGANDA.
