~~Footprint~~

Site is land with a "natural" feel, ^{sensory} heavy elements ^{are present} of such as smell, sounds, shades of green & earth tones for color & tactile sensations. Seems to be heavy vegetation, with lots of animal life, including ~~and~~ birds, insects & higher animals.

~~Water is present & seems to partially surround something~~
Terrain features include cliffs, ~~clay~~, rocks, and sloping & rounded topographical forms.

In the area there are many dark skinned people & a village of natural materials. People are Primitive Culturally, socially and technologically, including areas such as ^{health care} ~~medicine~~ farming, communication etc. ~~Animals~~ Animals seem to be more important to livelihood of people than does farming.

Site end
10:30

Site strongly suggests African village of the tribe its currently trends to study (I forget the name). ^(people insensitive) They are just now in the verge of being inundated by "civilization". I got the impression they poach elephants, and are presently engaged in low-grade combat with an external entity or agency.
