Site is a tall, "skyscraper-like" building in an urban area. Many different people, with different responsibilities/activities are present in the building. Some are strong, secure, powerful, and direct & make decisions. Others are subordinates, clerical, and feel anxious & stressed. Still others are administrative & managing. People in control are "no-nonsense" types, who are organizing. Managers wear white shirts & ties. Overall purpose seems to be associated with information collection. A covert military presence seems involved. Building is restricted, and contains large, shiny, plastic & metal, electrically operating, recording equipment. People in charge exhibit pronounced feelings of power & influence. Many compartments, offices, office machines, desks, conference rooms & tables are inside.
