SUMMARY:

The target site has land, a structure and activity. Colors evident are green, red, and blue. The main aspect of the site is something curved and rounded. There is also a pointed shape.

There are various shapes at the target (see sketches). One shape looks to me like a statue, solid, and possibly made of stone, that has broken and/or fallen down. It is a structure with an intricate design, artistic in some way. It is brighter towards the bottom. It is very dimensional but mostly curved. There is something that "slides away". There is a very strong smell at the site, almost metallic, that stays in your throat when you breathe it. Combined with the paint smell in the other building, it made me nauseous and sneeze. Something about the target is purposeful and meaningful. It is informative and educational.

The activity at the site seems to be movement. I picked up red, dangerous, jagged, and burning. This made me think of a fire. AOL-Structure on fire.

shape:

- solid structure of some kind with intricate details (I can't draw)
- possibly a statue that has broken or fallen down.
