MISSION: Describe key events/incidents significant to the Iraqi situation for the remainder of January 1991.

SUMMARY OF INFORMATION:

At first I saw a lot of yellow. Then everything seemed to be dark and black. I could see two different large shapes that were apart, then they banged together. They moved apart, then banged together again. I could see one person holding a rifle in the air. The ground is soft. I could see a brighter light and in the background make out the shape of a dark, solid object, like a tank. Something else is moving very fast, almost like a person running in place but not getting anywhere. A continuous, broken up sound, like rifle fire, is in the distance. There is a very loud machinery sound, the sound of moving tanks, or a truck outside.

There is a structure that is curved, horseshoe shaped. It gives me a full feeling, like full of air. I saw a person looking up, while another person was standing over him, choking him. There is another structure that has three dome shapes, two of them are long and narrow, while the one in the middle is wider and shorter (see sketch). I cannot smell anything but I keep thinking "cold feet", "cold feet", and my feet are cold. There are many things happening all at one time. They seem to be moving in "waves".

Moving to 15 Jan 91, in Iraq, during the day, I could hear a helicopter sound and things moving from right to left. That entire half circle or horseshoe shape was continuously moving from right to left. I kept picking up the feeling of excitement and anticipation.

Moving to 16 Jan 91, in Iraq, during the day, I had a few impressions but a lot of AOL. Everything seemed to be black. There were many, many people and they seemed to be everywhere, screaming and yelling. Black, long shapes all bunched up together in one place. There are vehicles that are moving and they are loud.

Moving to 18 Jan 91, I feel very itchy and my nose is burning. This feeling makes me think of chemical weapons. I can see a hard, grey, can-shaped object with valves sticking out on the sides, not sure if the valves are on all four sides. The top seems to be wider than the bottom. Clouds of steam or smoke seem to be coming off it. The steam is almost stringy, like liquid, but it is not liquid. It is very heavy steam. Then a thought entered my head "CHECK THE FLOOR". I do not know what that means. When I looked at the floor it is just a wooden floor. But I saw someone pick up something, almost like dirt or moss in a pile. You can peel pieces off this pile, like breaking off pieces of moss. But it is more like grass and dirt that you pick up in a pile and can rip off piece by piece. The person that is picking this up has some kind of mask or something covering his face. There is something that is cone shaped, something smaller is moving around it, like a propeller. Then I got the feeling that a lot of thick, lumpy, liquid was being dumped on me. It was yellowish-brown and there was a lot of it. It kept getting caught in my throat, made me cough, and unable to breathe. It was nasty. When it first dumped, I thought it came off the back of a truck, it was so thick. But I think that it came from higher, above me, like from an aircraft. It covered me and other people like a blanket. I also saw something long, yet rounded on the end. It is shiny, metallic, copper colored, and the rounded end turns and rotates.
