Greater Beirut:
A Comprehensive Gazetteer for the Photo Atlas Series

25X1

Scope Note

*Information available
as of 15 May 1988
was used in this report.*

This gazetteer provides a consolidated index of all of the named physical features.

25X1
25X1

25X1
25X1

All the features named in this gazetteer are arranged alphabetically and functionally. In some instances, more than one unique feature occupies the same place—this generally occurs in host-occupant situations, for example, such as when a well-known cafe is located on the ground floor of a famous hotel. We have dealt with these multiple occupancies by placing a list of occupants indented beneath host feature names in the alphabetical section of this gazetteer, and also by listing each occupant in its proper alphabetic position, with its occupancy status parenthetically flagged using an asterisk followed by the name of its host. In addition, for the convenience of functional gazetteer users, we have flagged occupancy status and further appended an asterisk to the end of host features' names to show that a list of its occupants is available in the alphabetical section.

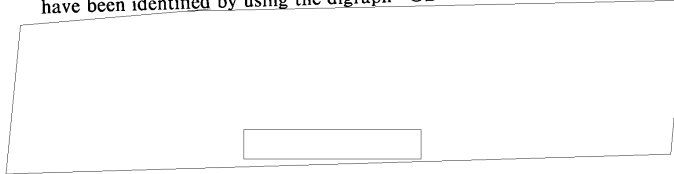

25X1

We have developed the following methods to indicate where in the multipart project each feature is annotated:

- The feature references that appear in the individual atlases use the convention established in the gazetteers that accompanied each atlas in the series: Photo Numbers begin with either S, W, E, or N (respectively representing the South, West, East, or North atlases), followed by the photo number on which the feature appears; the feature's Item Number and Grid Reference indicate its annotation label and general placement on the photo.

Secret

- Features shown on the Greater Beirut wall-sized photobase map—
have been identified by using the digraph "GB" in the column headed
