MEMORANDUM FOR: Morning Meeting Participants

SUBJECT: Meeting with Admiral Turner

I had an opportunity to talk with Admiral Turner this morning and he gave me some insight into his feelings about matters relating to contacts with the Congress. Since they concern you I wanted to share them with you:

a. The Admiral expects me to be kept informed regarding any material which is sent to him that relates to the Congress; therefore, if it is a matter which should not necessarily be routed through this office, we should at least have a drop copy of your communication to the Director.

b. Regarding congressional breakfasts, the Admiral does not want to unduly burden all of you and feels that in most instances he can handle these sessions himself with participation by Hank Knoche and [redacted] if they are available and want to be involved. Since this is a clarification of my comments this morning about congressional breakfasts, I thought you should be aware of it. For the Tuesday Freshman breakfast, I think you can work on the basis that only Hank Knoche and [redacted] need to participate unless you hear to the contrary.
