(U) DD/CIA Cohen Owns CFC Ping Pong Competition – Watch the Video Highlights

- - - Flash video was removed from print - - -

(U) On Friday, 6 November, DD/CIA Cohen sponsored a Combined Federal Campaign (CFC) event in which he challenged officers from across the Agency to a ping pong tournament in the Headquarters cafeteria. The DD/CIA played 13 games, each to 11 points and winning by two. The DD/CIA, armed with his own paddle and ping pong balls, breezed through the competition, winning against every challenger except for one— (in the red shirt, above), a recent Agency retiree who returned just for the ping pong tournament. DD/CIA Cohen originally planned to donate $20 for each of his wins and $40 for each of his losses, but in the end, contributed $40 for each game he played for a total of $520 in donations to CFC. The cupcake sale that accompanied the tournament generated more than $160 for charity.
