Dear Dr. Dochev:

If it suits you I propose a meeting for Friday, 10 September 1954 at 10 AM. I personally will not be able to come. My replacement will be an individual with a tan suit, blue shirt and tie with broad grey and red stripes. He wears glasses and his hair is thinning in front. He will recognize you from a snapshot, but to avoid confusion I am sending you a portion of the cover of a railroad timetable. My friend will have the remaining portion.

I hope that the recommendations which you will make will be modest and realistic, and that politics will take a back seat. On this will depend largely the success of our joint cause.

I regret that I will not be able to see you personally.

Sincerely yours,
