1.5 (c)

1. [REDACTED] formation of a group of Department of Investigations (DI) officials within the Department of Criminology, who perform surveillance assignments and other political activities, and are under direct assignment to the Director General.

2. A new group of detectives has recently been formed from the ranks of the latest graduating class of the DI's technical school. This group, which reports directly to the Director General of the DI, is believed to be charged with conducting highly sensitive political activities for the U.P. government. Although the activities of this group are closely guarded, the members are believed to be engaged as political informers within the DI.

3. The members of this group belong to either the Communist Party of Chile (PCCh) or the Socialist Party (PS). As recent graduates, they are all of the lowest detective rank.
