

Situation Update, 27 July 1992

Serbia and Montenegro have asserted the formation of a joint independent state, but this entity has not been formally recognized as a state by the United States.

Macedonia has proclaimed independent statehood but has not been formally recognized as a state by the United States.