50X1

i. Malaysia's effort to muster support in the UN for condemning Indonesian aggression is not making much headway.

j. UN members generally feel that both sides should try again to work out their differences within an "Asian framework."

2. South Vietnam

a. Animosity between the South Vietnamese and Cambodian regimes is heating up.

b. Saigon yesterday charged that Phnom Penh's military had aided the Viet Cong in four recent border fracas. It warned that "grave consequences" may follow and said that Phnom Penh would be held responsible.

c. The Vietnamese are thinking of taking steps to prevent recurrences. One idea under study is to tighten controls over traffic to Phnom Penh via the Mekong River.

50X1

e. For his part, Sihanouk is becoming more irritated over the "hot-pursuit" incursions into Cambodia by South Vietnamese regulars after Viet Cong units.

f. Sihanouk has strengthened his border guard units with naval boats and AA weapons. This, we think, increases the chances for more border clashes.

g. Our embassy in Phnom Penh reports an atmosphere of tension in the city. It has learned that contingency plans are being made for evacuation of government personnel in the event of an attack by South Vietnam.

50X1

3. North Vietnam - Laos

a. Hanoi, perhaps worried over possible bombings of facilities along its infiltration and supply routes into Laos, may be trying to reduce their vulnerability.

b. Aerial reconnaissance of an important military camp on the border shows work in progress to protect buildings. There is also an indication that underground facilities there may be undergoing expansion.

c. Two other camps along major supply routes appear abandoned and buildings have been torn down.

50X1

d. We do not think that the abandonment of these facilities means Hanoi intends to cut back its active support for the insurgents in Laos and South Vietnam. Rather, we regard it as evidence of a dispersal of open and concentrated installations.

4. Cyprus

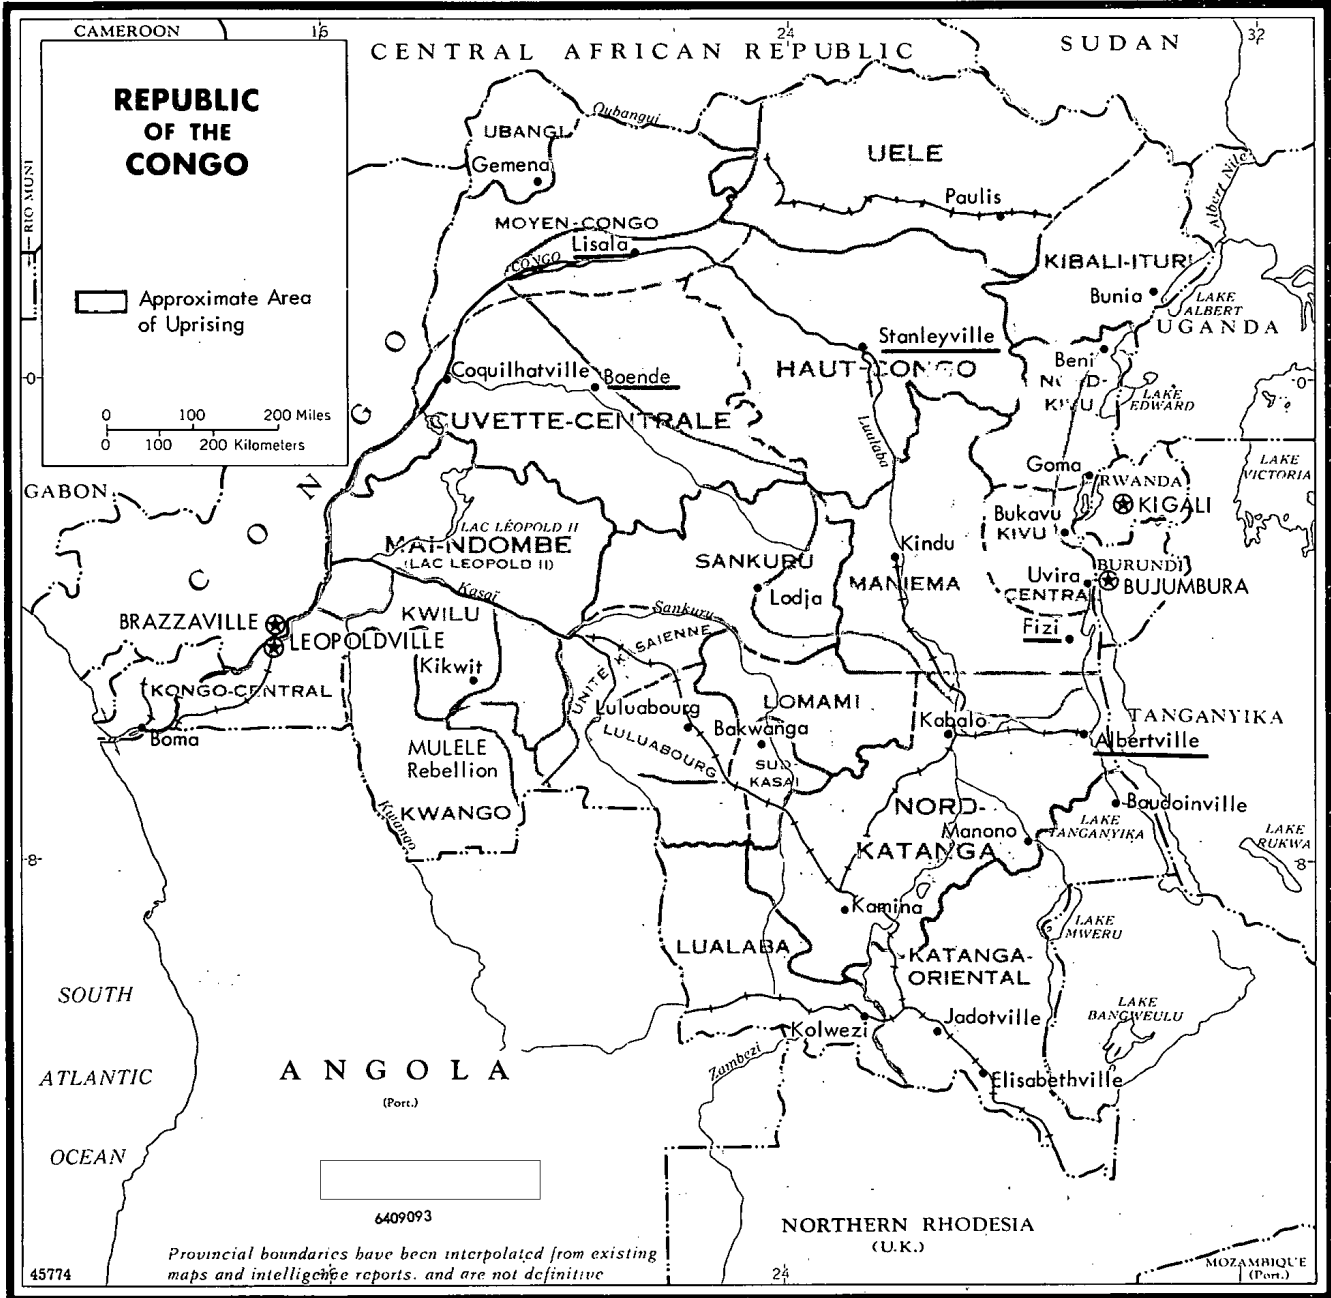

a. Turkey has tempered its threat to force through food and other supplies to Turkish Cypriots in the Kokkina area.

b. Ankara now says it will permit UN control of shipments to guarantee that no military materiel is smuggled in. But Inonu cautioned that if Nicosia interfered with this procedure he would regard it as an aggressive act.

c. According to UN officials, supply levels in Kokkina are "reasonably satisfactory." They think the Turkish attitude is unjustified.

d. In view of this, the Turks have proposed a Turkish-UN investigation into the Kokkina situation and have indicated they would hold off supply shipments pending the findings. We have not yet heard the UN reply.

e. The Turkish military posture remains substantially unchanged,

5. Congo

a. The government's move to stiffen the defenses of Coquilhatville has not yet eliminated the panic among army units there. The chances of holding the city do not seem good unless the panic subsides.

b. In the east, the government offensive north from Albertville has paused [redacted]

C. Sino-Soviet Relations [Redacted]

50X1

50X1

50X1

[Redacted] the border talks, which began in Peiping early this year, have been suspended and will resume later in Moscow. Some agreement reportedly has been reached on the Central Asian frontier, but disputes over sections in the Far East remain unresolved. Even if the talks are resumed, we think that a settlement is unlikely in view of the determination of each side to exploit territorial issues to discredit the other.

D. Uruguay More disturbances may be brewing in the wake of Montevideo's break with Havana. US property and personnel may be special targets of Communist-inspired violence.

TOP SECRET

USSR

a. Further examination of an early August [] mission has turned up still another ICBM complex with single silo launchers.

50X1

b. This one, at Aleysk north of Semipalatinsk, has three launch areas about five miles apart and a support facility. Like the three other single silo complexes we spotted earlier, it is in the mid-stage of construction.

c. We have now identified a total of 15 or 16 single silos at the four complexes. Some of them could be operational by mid-1965.
