The word is beginning to go around Moscow that a number of cabinet-level personnel shifts are in the offing. It is expected that an announcement on this will come early next month when the "legislature"--the Supreme Soviet--will be in session for a few days.

There are no signs at this point that any dramatic changes are in the works

President Makarios is contemplating a visit to the US--Washington as well as the UN--and Latin America this fall. Makarios sees this as part of a major diplomatic push aimed at garnering support for the Greek-Cypriot position since he evidently expects the latest Greek-Turkish talks to break down.

Meanwhile, Makarios is maintaining his hard line against the Turkish Cypriots
