For identification purposes we have assigned your request the number referenced above. Please refer to this number in future correspondence.

In an effort to assist you with your specific request, please be advised that the Stealth Air Combat planes are operated by the U.S. Air Force. It is therefore possible that the USAF may be able to provide the information you are requesting. The USAF FOIA address is:

However, to assist you in your research, please be advised that Agency records released since 1 October 1996 are available on our World Wide Web site on the Internet. Documents can be located through our "Search" section on the site by entering specific topics or terms into our database. In addition to the "Search" section, our "Popular Document Collection" section offers the most frequently requested CIA information, and our "Your Rights" section serves as a reference guide to help the public access Agency information through the various federal public access laws. Moreover, our Internet site gives instant access to our information and offers a less costly alternative because the FOIA authorizes federal agencies to collect fees for records services. The website address is:

If you do not have access through a home computer, access to the Internet is available at many public libraries.

We hope that the foregoing will be of assistance and wish you success in your school project.
