Dear Sir or Madame,

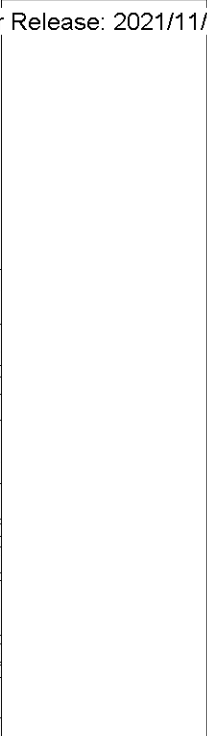

I am writing to make a Freedom of Information Act request. I am particularly interested in the use of mathematics and logic regularly used in intelligence analysis. I would like a comprehensive example of their use that has been declassified. I am aware that analysts destroy all documentation used in the preparation of a brief, but there must be some self-explanatory examples remaining in some document that has been declassified. Please contact me with the expected prices for those documents; so I can write the checks.

I would also like to know which Universities offer courses in intelligence and what textbooks they use. I am interested in any required reading for your analysts.
