MAZZUCCA

About 20 June 1944, MAZZUCCA was told by Major HASS that he together with operator Harold Egan and Dr. MEYER would go into Allied territory within a few months to perform an espionage mission and punish those agents who had turned traitors. MAZZUCCA (GER-2f) believes there is a strong possibility these men will shortly enter Allied territory.

In

CURCIO (GER-2f) met him. Seen twice by Curcio but he cannot describe accurately. Claims he was dressed in blue civilian suit on one occasion and on 2nd occasion was wearing khaki trousers and shirt with German Aviation wings in breast.

SCACCIA

HASS registered disgust of the Republican Fascists and source members that they were intensely disliked by the Germans. Late November. Left for Germany early in December 1943

SCACCIA states that about the end of May 1944, MEYER sent him in to talk to HASS who wanted to see him. HASS had just returned from leave in BERLIN and said that he had found his family well but his house destroyed by bombs. On this occasion subject gave SCACCIA and unloaded Beretta pistol since they had no more 9 mm ammunition. Carmelo FIANRO told SCACCIA in REGINA COELI Prison that he had heard from a Partisan that HASS and MEYER had been arrested while leaving Rome by car. cwk

DESCRIPTION: 38 yrs; 1.80m; thin but tough; brown hair; light eyes; appeared occasionally to suffer from asthma; deceptively cordial in bearing; uncommunicative; Spoke a little Italian. Appeared to be under the influence of MEYER, Major SS; (SD embroidered on his cuff)

AGOSTINI told SCACCIA that his distrust of HASS, MEYER and even KAPPLER was shared by THUN.

Source understood that HASS sometimes posed with Italians as a German officer with pro-Allied sympathies in order to be able to get information about prisoners of war in hiding. When an order came from Berlin that KAPPLER was to personally bring Mario PROCLIO there, KAPPLER angrily refused to do so and made HASS and FRIEBKE go instead. They returned to Rome only the afternoon of June 3/44 just in time to find everybody getting ready to leave. cwk

At the beginning of Jan. HASS returned, presumably from leave and introduced FIANDRO to MAYER.

P/W GROSSI

At the end of Oct. '43, DOMISLACH introduced GROSSI to HASS who would assume command.

Wanted to divorce his wife in order to marry his mistress, Marchesa Alba MASSARI, whom he apparently intended to take away with him, but he returned from Berlin too late to carry out his intention to do so. Heavy drinker; frivolous and joking. AGOSTINI told source that HASS was "too kind" and that KAPPLER had taken over too late. Speaks quite good Italian. Has gone to VERONA.

Roth HASS and MEYER backed the idea of GROSSI using his work of helping PWs as "cover" and were delighted when denunciations of GROSSI in that connection began coming at the Embassy. HASS asked to meet some of the PWs and was introduced to them as a Swedish engineer. In May '44, subject told GROSSI that he was about to go to Berlin and asked what possibilities there were for his having guarantee for his personal safety and staying behind in Rome when the Germans left. Source thinks this desire was prompted by the fact that HASS was in love with his mistress Marchesa Alba MASSARI, and did not want to leave her.

Source states that when HASS came to his parties and got drunk, he would get him to sign blank permits for his friends' cars.

In the last few days, the Questore Uldarico CAPUTO, in the name of Comm. Col. PICCARDO, and his work in Iron Curtain activity. HAAS required the collaboration of a confidential informant who compiled the report according to Source's request. The figure of UFFREDUZZI has been illustrated under a real light, of which HASS has direct knowledge; as much as is necessary had been said on the activity in course which UFFREDUZZI carries out for the Ital CS, i.e., within the limits of the confidences which UFFREDUZZI made to HASS in the course of their meetings, past and present. The report furnished to HASS on the Eastern Countries is a journalistic endeavor of UFFREDUZZI's of which Source has a photographic copy; the two small volumes on Albanian are the well known pamphlets compiled by Capt RENZI and published by Mercury Press, owned by UFFREDUZZI.
