Source, Operational Data, and Comments:

1. In between the receipt of the 10 August report and that of the 25 August report, a rather snide note (which was returned by courier, sealed) was sent to [] on the subject of the 10 August report concerning TSUJI's remarks and the report used for ZJL-689 concerning HATTORI Takushiro's remarks. The note paralleled the attitude expressed in PD-226 by [] concerning what to do about []
2. Apparently the rasp contained in that note had some effect, because [] promptly compiled the 25 August report which contains the real meat of this report, and has not stopped yet. His subsequent reports have not been processed fully as yet, but are uniformly good in quality and detail. Even this report, though it gives us details on TSUJI's tribulations rather than his activities, concerning which we get mainly hints, certainly gives us a close-up of TSUJI. Furthermore, it is followed up by another recent report which gives more details on the items discussed in paras. 4p and in 6 of this report and on SATO Katsuro's alleged "mis-use" of TSUJI.
3. Re para. 3: A [] report of this week, not yet processed, identifies the NIPPON YUKAN SHA as a subsidiary interest of the prominent Rightist, MATSUDA Giichi, who is a good friend and recent collaborator of SATOH Hajime and who is the backer of the NIPPON KOKUMIN KINSHUSHUGI DANPAI of HANDA Hajji, HONMA Kenichiro, SASAKI Takeo, OYAMA Ryoshi and others of the SHUPPETAI Incident fame. NIPPON YUKAN SHA is one of the sources of funds for the former God's Troopers.
4. Re para. 10: This is the most clear of many references throughout the report as to TSUJI's actual picture of himself as a spiritual descendant of the Army and Navy mutineers of the pre-war "Incident" days — his firm desire, not to evade arrest or trial, but rather to use it, whether obviously guilty or obviously not (we choose the former obviously), to broadcast his political views and play the party. TSUJI's application of this time-honored Japanese Rightist device for gaining public sympathy is not quite so comic-operative as it appears at first glance to the untrained Westerner; in fact, we can be very grateful, as probably the prosecuting attorney was also, that his illness prevented it.

SECRET

(SPL-73) COVER LETTER, P-266

5. This memo-on-class diary form of account on the ... views of his good friends MITCHELL and ISURIT has been contained [] and will appear in later reports. Details on MITCHELL's organization are not appearing.

6. In [] MITCHELL may be appearing to be trying (a) to urge his job by presenting desired information on his friends (b) to vindicate or at least allay the suspicion concerning his friends and (c) to show that he recognizes the need his friends have for help and to heed their statements. [] MITCHELL has been fully or partially vindicated by the fact that ISURIT was guilty of violating the above guidelines, and no report of ISURIT as to his activities is being made. [] MITCHELL has a good red-herring case for ISURIT's alleged activities and [] MITCHELL has a good red-herring case for his defense in court. [] MITCHELL will definitely do as MITCHELL orders all of ISURIT's views, and quite definitely stirred ISURIT away from the "harpy"-style defense of himself in court which would have had a profound but also effective propaganda too. [] MITCHELL has been [] in being about at least in saying that he did not and does not want to see the "ISURIT" case (from which he nevertheless tries to absolve ISURIT of almost blame by claiming it is ISURIT's AND Publishing Office subscriptions who are the real villains) used for political purposes, and does he agree with ISURIT's political views as ISURIT has himself stated them (but [] claims those views, if irresponsible, are due to bad intelligence system, [] in a later report there are details on this.) There is something akin to a conflict of ideologies - personal and ideological - in which the ideological view out a bit, fortunately for us. A thorough study of this report will reveal many more interesting personal angles which we do not feel need to be pointed out to you here.
