1. In order that the interested addressees may have a chance to study the attachment to Reference A, we are forwarding it herewith. Although we have not had the time to give the attachment the study it should have, we have arrived at some tentative conclusions, on which addressees' comments are requested.

2. In accepting the turnover of the reference source, we would have a probable reporting source on the rightist activities in South Germany and a possible point of access to Subject. Since the coverage of the provincial right-extremists is not of paramount importance, we need only consider source's access to Subject, which is undoubtedly of great interest in terms of our relations with UPSWING. Because of this interest we should discuss with ODOPAL source's precise present relationship to Subject. If that relationship could be characterized by the 11 August meeting, where source's friends angrily rejected an East German recruitment, while Subject stood by in the role of the silent spotter, we might well consider requesting ODOPAL to allow us to pass the lead to UPSWING. On the other hand, if the relationship is still fresh, we might consider the possibility of unilateral action.
