A Follow-up Report on the Alleged
Mountain Shoe Manufacturer, Alois REINER. #1

Concerning the official report from here dated 7 May 1953. #1817290.

With the report of 15 September 53 the office 3720 reports the following concerning the alleged mountain shoe manufacturer, Alois REINER:

"Alois GAISWINKLER, born 13 January 1922, in Altaussee, Bezirk Liezen, illegitimate son of Maria GAISWINKLER, apprentice cobbler, Roman Catholic, married, wife Helga nee REINER, provider for wife and one child, resident of Altaussee 69, Bezirk Liezen, has been previously sentenced as follows:

1. 10 RM or 24 hours, in Bad Aussee.
2. In Leoben 4 months arrest.

Content: In the Aussee area there is no mountain shoe manufacturer named Alois REINER. There is a cobbler apprentice, Alois GAISWINKLER, who is called Alois REINER because his stepfather had the common name "REINER".
would have been correctly named
REINER ~~was correctly named~~ Johann AMON. He died in 1952. He was only a small cobbler and did not even practice his trade any longer in his last years.

GAISWINKLER is known as a wild one, is seldom among other people, and one usually meets him alone. Outside of this he is an industrious worker and has a good reputation. It is known that he is ~~connected~~ connected with Dr. HOETTL who was also a witness at his wedding. It couldn't be ascertained if or to which party GAISWINKLER belongs. It is presumed that he is a left socialist. GAISWINKLER didn't return home until after the war. No one knows whether he deserted or not. He is not related to the former Nationalrat GAISWINKLER and has nothing to do with him."

There are no other official traces here.
