He was considerably active in the [ ] (UJ-DROLLERY #1209) case and at present time is establishing excellent connections into Poland."

An Oct '51 Zipper report stated CONNY's publishing house KUESTEN-VERLAG, Hamburg 1, Ballindamm 26 ('53 Hamb tel. dir.) was very much in debt. CONNY had been offered KPD aid and would find it difficult to plausibly refuse, so Zipper made efforts to obtain credit for him from ministries in Bonn to prevent the business coming under KPD control.

Oct '53: POB's [ ] has impression CONNY works for Zipper primarily because his business was in financial difficulty and believes CONNY to be source of a report to effect that Fritz HEINE, SPD Secretary, had received $50,000 DM from the SED for 1953 election; Zipper considered this report sensitive and unreliable, and therefore did not disseminate it. [ ] stresses that this information is extremely SENSITIVE and should not be disseminated or acted upon).
