

(U) How 9/11 Affected You: Employees' Stories from That Day, in Their Own Words

(U//~~FOUO~~) The Office of Public Affairs asked for employees' stories about their experiences on 11 September, 2001. The workforce provided a trove of fascinating stories. Some

[Redacted]

(b)(3)

Another from the Recruitment Center had to find a way to get [Redacted] applicants home. Other current officers, who were not employees at the time, barely missed being involved in the attack on the Pentagon. Another decided to quit working at an investment bank and work for CIA. Others decided to focus college studies on international affairs and join the Agency.

(U//~~FOUO~~) Some tell stories of being involved in the events on the ground. Director Brennan explains the actions of the CIA leadership team to ensure employee safety and continuity of operations.

[Redacted]

(b)(3)

(U) To read excerpts from some of the 9/11 employee stories, click here.

(This article is UNCLASSIFIED//FOR OFFICIAL USE ONLY. The PDF is SECRET//NOFORN.)

Modified: 9/11/2014 8:29 AM
Published: 9/11/2014 7:17 AM