

This organization is connected with the Rumanian National Committee. It is one of the many organizations put up by the former members of the Iron Guard which apparently have only cultural and friendly relations in mind. The above mentioned association is supposed to function with the financial help of Dr. Constantin Istratieanu, who is presently its president.

Prof. Vasile Desaireanu, one of the vice-presidents, is also a vice-president of another catholic organization: "The Rumanian Committee for the Holy Year" (office: Piazza delle Cappelle 72, Rome, Italy).

Athanasios Octavian Rosu, is a member of the Iron Guard and he was very active in helping Rumanian emigrants to reach South America. Alexandar Gregorian is a former member active in the Iron Guard Movement.

Prof. Rosu is a member of the "Rumanian Committee for the Holy Year" and is also a member of the Association of Rumanian University Students in Italy.

Prof. Rosu is also assistant Dean of the "Pio-Battista" College in Rome and is a member of the "Rumanian Committee for the Holy Year" in Via del Babuino.

Prof. Rosu is also a member of the Catholic periodical "Suntul nostru" and is a member of the "Rumanian Committee for the Holy Year" in Via del Babuino.

... of the Romanian National Committee to become a united and effective group is a severe blow to the Romanians in exile. It leaves the several thousands Romanians without leadership and in the same time splits them in several groups, according to the factions they support.

At the same time if the members of the R.N.C. will not change their way of thinking, the result will be the existence of two different national committees in the United States. This may be avoided as it is deadly for the future united action of the Romanian free movement. The fact, which I think is true, that each of the present 9 members of the R.N.C. considers himself more or

...the main line of Communist propaganda is ... spreading the news. Of course that this crisis in the R.N.C. is a source of disappointment for the people who are inclined to resist the present regime. They know that the R.N.C. has not even been able to help or coordinate the various small groups of resistance throughout the country. Indications are that the Iron Guard has been able to do this and even some of their members have been caught, tried and shot for subversive activities. Therefore the movement <sup>can now</sup> ~~is able~~

The active support of the Romanian people will be given to those who will prove that they are active in helping their fellows abroad and at home and are able to provide an ideal worth to fight for. Judging by the results up-to-now, we are not encou-
