(U//~~ATUO~~) A friend of DCI Allen Dulles sent him a 1956 newspaper clipping about a radio station contest in Oceanside, California that was recently reviewed by the DCI team at the CIA Declassification Center. The newspaper article indicated the contest question one day was "Who is director of the CIA?" The lucky winner who correctly named Allen Dulles won $1,485! The submitter of the article added, "Dear Allen, This should be evidence to you of my contention that people of Oceanside are among the best informed in the country."

~~(U//ATUO)~~ A requester from a youth correctional facility in Racine, Wisconsin is "researching a subject" and wants guidance on filing formal Freedom of Information Act requests.

- The FOIA case manager informed the requester that all Freedom of Information Act requests for the CIA should be sent to the Information and Privacy Coordinator, Central Intelligence Agency, Washington, DC 20505. The requester was also given the requirements for filing requests for information under the Privacy Act. In addition, the requester was made aware of all the initiatives the Central Intelligence Agency has in which to obtain publications already released to the public, such as those on the CIA's website (www.foia.cia.gov). The requester was also informed of the the address of the Department of Commerce because certain CIA publications are made available by that agency's publishing service. The requester was also informed of CIA's database of previously released records from which records can be obtained at little or no charge and relatively quickly because no review is required.
