(U//AHUO) SCD Prepares Release of Almost 7,000 Pages of Soviet Finished Intelligence

(U//AIUO) The Special Collections Division (SCD) at IMS has prepared ten boxes of material on the Soviet Union for release next week to the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA). The material, comprising almost 7,000 pages of formerly classified material, was previously released in the FOIA and Automatic Declassification programs at CIA, and covers many issues including military, economics, and politics of the USSR.

• SCD has been compiling special collections of declassified finished intelligence on the Soviet Union since 1997, and to date, over 102,000 pages on the subject have been released to NARA. SCD currently is working on two more tranches, consisting of over 6500 pages, of Soviet finished intelligence for release in 2003.

> (U//AIUO)-A Requester Claims Raytheon, Among Others, Experimented on His Brain While in Puerto Rico (U//AIUO) A requester from Rochester, New York writes that, while on vacation in Puerto Rico, he "became a victim" of CIA experiments that used technology "that had to do with nuclear mutation of the brain with implants." He claims that the companies involved in these experiments are Maynard Taggart Corp., Raytheon, and General Dynamics.

The FOIA case manager informed the requester that a search of our database of previously released records for information regarding brain implants and nuclear mutation did not locate any responsive records.

(U//AILIO) From the Archives: DCI Dulles on the U-2

(U//AIUG) DCI Allen Dulles appeared before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on 31 May 1960 to address the issue of the loss of a U-2 over the USSR and the capture of its pilot, Gary Powers, by the Soviets. Mr. Dulles explained why we had the U-2: The "ordinary tools of information gathering," which were overt and covert and information from Soviet defectors, were insufficient. "However, these sources and other sources developed through the application of various scientific techniques, while very helpful, did not give us the full intelligence the country required against the danger of a surprise attack against us, from bases which might remain unknown and by weapons, the strength and power of which we might not be able to adequately evaluate ... Almost equally serious had been our lack of knowledge of Soviet defense measures against our retaliatory striking power." He contrasted our efforts with those of the Soviets "... while Soviet spy trawlers can lurk a few miles off our shores and observe us with impunity, the Soviets cry 'aggression' when a plane, invisible to the naked eye, flies over it some fifteen miles above the ground."

This is a record.
