Assignment of Code Names for SECRET Candidates

1. For better security, and ease in handling, we propose to designate SECRET recruits numerically (i.e., SECRET I, SECRET II, etc.) thus eliminating the necessity of contemporaries using real names prior to the establishment of a future code name which cannot be assigned until the applicant has successfully completed a course training course.

2. The assignment of a SECRET number to an individual will not take place until after the individual has successfully passed the code aptitude test and will then designate candidates ready for and/or in training.
