1. AEDOGMA: When asked for a status report, DORBACH made the following points:

a. Very little has come of UPHILL's investigation to date. The Police charged with the responsibility has done a lousy job, having claimed it's not clear just what is wanted. DORBACH said UPHILL had deliberately not made the purpose of the exercise clear, since word would get to @JUPP who would react very defensively. In effect, they are trying to elicit info from AEDOGMA re his background, etc., without making either AEDOGMA or JUPP suspicious.

b. AEDOGMA continues to report more than ever before and also to produce more reports that are anti-American in tone. AEDOGMA's monthly salary recently was raised to 300 DM. AEDOGMA never has complained about getting too little money.

c. When told that we had indications that KASHUBA was AEDOGMA's main source on the GUN, DORBACH said UPHILL finally had come across this fact themselves and that it was about time.

d. DORBACH said UPHILL still was concerned about the close relationship between AEDOGMA and Boris LEVITSKY. DORBACH said he still was convinced that there was something wrong with LEVITSKY. DORBACH then talked at some length about the LEVITSKY "affair" of earlier days and unhappy fact that the case against LEVITSKY had not held up.

e. DORBACH said he was sorry that UPHILL's security review of the AEDOGMA was going so slowly. In addition to everything else, DORBACH said, with a smile, the security types in UPHILL have not had time to help because they have too many other things to do.
