This letter had been carried to Mexico by Identity-3. ARSIDECAR-2 first heard of the letter from Identity-4 at earlier international events. Identity-4 was very outgoing and friendly, and in the past had rather consistently sought out Americans at these events. During the past week in Mexico City, ARSIDECAR-2, who never loses a chance to keep up with athlets and coaches of his own nationality, had renewed his acquaintance with Identity-4, and had given his some equipment of American manufacture to take back home. He had also taken out Identity-4 to dinner with another friend. On 18 October, Identity-4 mentioned that Identity-3 had brought a letter from Carling the past widely known, at least among athletes of the sum antionality). Identity-4 suggested that ASS IDECAR-2 go to the hotel of the FJSTEAL delegation to pick up the letter, sinc Identity-3's duits did not permit until later in the day, when Identity-4 reminded him of the letter, that he got around to reading it. Identity-4 saked him, in their common language in front of other members of the FJSTEAL team, what was in the letter. AESIDECAR-2 was buey and stuffed the letter. AESIDECAR-2 was used, but the clandestime, or at least illicit, nature of the letter as translated rather painfully by AESIDECAR-2 (whose English is not particularly good), were reported in reference (A). letter. AESIDECAR-2 said it was just friendly greetings. 3. The contents of the letter, as translated rather painfully by AESIDECAR-2 (whose English is not particularly good), were reported in reference (A). As stated, considerable doubletalk was used, but the clandestine, or at least illicit, nature of the letter was not particularly well camouflaged. A copy of the letter is forwarded under separate cover (S/C att. 2), and we would appreciate being advised if subsequent translation uncovers any significant variation from our understanding of the letter. As also reported, AESIDECAR-2 did not know the persons mentioned toward the end of the letter, and is unable to explain the significance of this portion of the letter. AESIDECAR-2 felt that the letter was genuine, but he was willing to accept our advice and respond to it in any way we wished. We told him of our suspicion that the letter was a provocation, basing it on the fact that AESIDECAR-2 was blown to the FJSTEAL IS, plus the fact that the Wording of the letter seemed designed to get us to expose our hand for either CA or CE exploitation. 5. In a meeting the morning of 21 October, AESIDECAR-2 reported the events of the previous evening. He had gone to the hotel and asked for Identity-4. The latter was no where to be found, and AESIDECAR-2 was given a bit of a hard time until it was confirmed that AESIDECAR-2 had in fact lent the FJSTEAL team the equipment he had come to pick up.

I on his way home, and would be glad to deliver AESIDECAR-2's letter and anything else AESIDECAR-2 wished to send. As agreed with the case officer, AESIDECAR-2 said that he wanted to send 1 5  $\rightarrow$  v wife and daughter a small rememberance, such as a pair of stockings. Identity-3 repeated several times, however, that AESIDECAR-2 could send along anything. He added that the athletes' luggage was not checked when they returned home, and they could bring anything in. Identity-3 also asked AESIDECAR-2 when he had last seen [ 7 Was it at the European Championships in Belgrade in 1964? AESIDECAR-2 replied truth-fully that they had last met in the United States. Finally, they walked out of the hotel and AESIDECAR-2 handed Identity-3 the letter for \_\_\_\_ A copy of the letter is forwarded under separate cover (S/C Att. 3). According to AESIDECAR-2, his letter acknowledges  $\square$  is and proceeds to tell his letter acknowledges [] I about the athletic events in Mexico City and how 5 AESIDECAR-2 saved Mexico from international embarrasment. AESIDECAR-2 writes that when -year "we can get you a camera so you can take movies for your work" (this was in the context of  $\angle$ \_\_7 athletic work). AESIDECAR-2 concludes by saying he will try to get the bodyin the United States, building book C and that he was sending along a little something for his wife and daughter.

6. AESIDECAR-2 arranged to meet Identity-3 the afternoon of 21 October to give him the presents. At the same time he was to give Identity-3 a piece of the tartan track, newly developed by the 3M company for track and field events. Identity-3 wanted to bring it home so it could be analyzed and duplicated there. AESIDECAR-2 explained that the secret was not in the ingredients, but in how it was put together. Nevertheless, Identity-3 wanted a piece badly. AESIDECAR-2 was also to see Identity-4 again. Identity-4 had some FJSTEAL currency which he wished AESIDECAR-2 to change for him so he could get dollars and buy things to take home. We advised AESIDECAR-2 to tell Identity-4 he couldn't find any takers for him, and we pointed out that the activities and statements of Identities-3 and -4 were further indications that the whole business was a provocation. At this point, AESIDECAR-2 asked if we had information that 🧲 ----- was working for the FJSTEAL that we did not have such information, IS. We told Cbut that it was always possible that he had confessed to his recruitment; or that this information had been forced out of him. Perhaps, after AESIDECAR-2's involvement with the basketball player, the FJSTEAL IS had decided to check out all of AESIDECAR-2's FJSTEAL contacts -- of which 🗁 _____ was one of the closest, and certainly well known. This could have led to _____ compromise. If our suspicions about Identities-3 5_ and -4 were correct, it was very possible that the FJSTEAL IS was using people like them to contact known AIS assets such as AESIDECAR-2 in order to divert AIS attention from other, more vulnerable FJSTEAL athletes. This explanation seemed to satisfy AESIDECAR-2, and it was designed to take some of the

7. (AESIDECAR-2) decided that he would return home on 22 October. He would be returning to Mexico City on 25 October to put his wife and daughter on a plane for the United States. He was given a Station telephone number and was asked to call in on 26 October so that he could be debriefed on (his final meetings with Identities-3 and -4 and also inform us whether he had decided to accept the job of Identity-2 for 1968. This would be a big job and requires his giving up his Identity-1 position. He explained that his services are desired for this job, but he will not accept unless he is guaranteed a free hand and financial arrangements equal to those he has in his Identity-1 position. We have no plans for regular contact with AESIDECAR-2] but, unless Headquarters objects, we will He ask him to inform us whenever the hears from C will, of course eventually have to be given some instructions  $\rightarrow$  in fact appear (AESIDECAR-2 believes ) for 1968 should  $\square$ - will show up with information and will defect that 🔼 to us).

8. (AESIDECAR-2/impressed the case officer as being a rather honest and straightforward person, with a tendency to blow his own horn regarding his professional capability. From other sources who know him professionally we hear that he is known as a capable person, but his bluntness has gotten him in trouble with the authorities and therefore his services are not as greatly desired as he would have us think. Be that as it may, we take at face value his assertion that he had come to us because he had felt it his duty -- he has no desire to get involved in intelligence activities, and he makes no bones about his inexperience in this particular field. (In spite of his obvious desire to believe that 🧠 🛛 letter was genuine, and his desire to answer in kind, he has, by his own statements at least, responded faithfully to the instructions given him. We had originally hoped that his walking in was the result of contacts made with him by FJSTEAL officials. This was not the case, and there is no reason to believe that he will have any such contacts in the future. His only usefulness is in connection with 🔼 and we believe that AESIDECAR+ 2 will be a willing and able instrument of whatever action Headquarters proposes.
