10. FACTS, EVALUATION AND COMMENT: (Use additional plain sheet if necessary)
Note: The LCPROML Apparat is not a separate project but remains part of project LCPROML. It is reported here on a separate sheet merely for the sake of clarity. a. Mission No change b. Accomplishments (1) Four classes, averaging 20 Kreis leaders each, completed the week-long training course in para-military and resistance activity taught by indigenous instructors at the Apparat operational house #1 in West Germany. In addition to purely technical subjects, such as weapon instruction and the use of demolitions, the schooling included political orientation designed to confirm the motivation of Apparat members. Every precaution was taken to insure the security of the training site and the true identity of the trainees. (2) Steps have been taken to reorganize the Apparat in harmony with present security requirements. Under field supervision four geographic areas have been delineated; each area will be covered by a net which is specially prepared and trained to take advantage of the targets or terrain features of the area, e.g. the South German net will concentrate on guerrilla and holding operations with the alps as a suitable base. (3) Nine border crossing points into East Germany have been organized and tested. These points are serviced by East and West German teams, each now ready for active border crossing operations. Caching plans for East Germany have been submitted and steps are being taken to procure the necessary materials.

e. Miscellaneous Comment

(1) Information gathering material of a purely intelligence nature has been suspended for security reasons. Such activity in the future will be confined to collecting data necessary for Apparat operations.

(2) After a careful study of the training curriculum the Home Office has suggested that more attention be devoted to clandestine sabotage, tradecraft, and security instruction. This recommendation will be adopted and reflected in the program of future classes.
