The outstanding event of the last month was the most successful celebration organized on November 8 by Mr. Vallimarescu, which was attended by all the most representative members of the Rumanian colony, irrespective of their political opinions. The most bitter opponents of the National Committee, the Legionnaires belonging to Radescu's ARMA organization, whose presence was interpreted here, not so much as an act of respect toward the King, but as a recognition of Mr. Vallimarescu's authority and of that of the Committee, consider they committed a tactical error in attending the event. Now, led by Francu and Mangatu, they are doing their best to annul that effect and the singularly conciliatory effect of their recent articles in "Romania." In this they are joined by certain alleged friends of Mr. Vallimarescu, formerly in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs.
