

The National Intelligence

Daily

Published by the Director of Central Intelligence for Named Principals Only

Approved for Release: 2020/09/11 C02986664

TOP SECRET
	(b)(3)
	(b)(3)

Copy No. 251

TUESDAY MARCH 1, 1977

VOLUME 4, NUMBER 048

TCS 548/77

In The Daily
Daily

NR Record

Approved for Release: 2020/09/11 C02986664

TOP SECRET

2 TUESDAY MARCH 1, 1977	TCS 548/77 THE NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE DAILY
	NR Record

TOP SECRET

Approved for Release: 2020/09/11 C02986664

Approved for Release: 2020/09/11 C02986664

TOP SECRET

THE NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE DAILY	TCS 548/77	TUESDAY MARCH 1	, 1977 3
			NR Record

TOP SECRET

	4 TUESDAY MARCH 1, 1977			TCS 548/77	THE NATIONAL INTELLIGENCE DAILY	Y
					ı	NR
	N	ews
1	N	ews	BRIEFS
		ews	BRIEFS
	Brazil A prominent Brazilian newspaper, quoting	ews	BRIEFS
i	Brazil A prominent Brazilian newspaper, quoting an unnamed official source, asserts that Brazil will be able to resist any US pressures to	ews	BRIEFS
1	Brazil A prominent Brazilian newspaper, quoting an unnamed official source, asserts that Brazil will be able to resist any US pressures to modify the West German nuclear sale to Brazil. This statement indicates the position that Brazilian negotiators will take in talks with	ews	BRIEFS
1	Brazil A prominent Brazilian newspaper, quoting an unnamed official source, asserts that Brazil will be able to resist any US pressures to modify the West German nuclear sale to Brazil. This statement indicates the position that Brazilian negotiators will take in talks with the US that begin today. According to the newspaper's source,	ews	BRIEFS
1	Brazil A prominent Brazilian newspaper, quoting an unnamed official source, asserts that Brazil will be able to resist any US pressures to modify the West German nuclear sale to Brazil. This statement indicates the position that Brazilian negotiators will take in talks with the US that begin today. According to the newspaper's source, Brazil does not expect the US to exert such pressure. Nevertheless, he said the country	ews	BRIEFS
11 11	Brazil A prominent Brazilian newspaper, quoting an unnamed official source, asserts that Brazil will be able to resist any US pressures to modify the West German nuclear sale to Brazil. This statement indicates the position that Brazilian negotiators will take in talks with the US that begin today. According to the newspaper's source, Brazil does not expect the US to exert such pressure. Nevertheless, he said the country has become sufficiently strong and diversified in its international relations to withstand hin-	ews	BRIEFS
	Brazil A prominent Brazilian newspaper, quoting an unnamed official source, asserts that Brazil will be able to resist any US pressures to modify the West German nuclear sale to Brazil. This statement indicates the position that Brazilian negotiators will take in talks with the US that begin today. According to the newspaper's source, Brazil does not expect the US to exert such pressure. Nevertheless, he said the country has become sufficiently strong and diversified in its international relations to withstand hindrances in obtaining credit and finance or reprisals in bilateral trade. The source went on	ews	BRIEFS
	Brazil A prominent Brazilian newspaper, quoting an unnamed official source, asserts that Brazil will be able to resist any US pressures to modify the West German nuclear sale to Brazil. This statement indicates the position that Brazilian negotiators will take in talks with the US that begin today. According to the newspaper's source, Brazil does not expect the US to exert such pressure. Nevertheless, he said the country has become sufficiently strong and diversified in its international relations to withstand hindrances in obtaining credit and finance or	ews	BRIEFS
	Brazil A prominent Brazilian newspaper, quoting an unnamed official source, asserts that Brazil will be able to resist any US pressures to modify the West German nuclear sale to Brazil. This statement indicates the position that Brazilian negotiators will take in talks with the US that begin today. According to the newspaper's source, Brazil does not expect the US to exert such pressure. Nevertheless, he said the country has become sufficiently strong and diversified in its international relations to withstand hindrances in obtaining credit and finance or reprisals in bilateral trade. The source went on to say that Brazil's recent record on human	ews	BRIEFS
	Brazil A prominent Brazilian newspaper, quoting an unnamed official source, asserts that Brazil will be able to resist any US pressures to modify the West German nuclear sale to Brazil. This statement indicates the position that Brazilian negotiators will take in talks with the US that begin today. According to the newspaper's source, Brazil does not expect the US to exert such pressure. Nevertheless, he said the country has become sufficiently strong and diversified in its international relations to withstand hindrances in obtaining credit and finance or reprisals in bilateral trade. The source went on to say that Brazil's recent record on human	ews	BRIEFS
	Brazil A prominent Brazilian newspaper, quoting an unnamed official source, asserts that Brazil will be able to resist any US pressures to modify the West German nuclear sale to Brazil. This statement indicates the position that Brazilian negotiators will take in talks with the US that begin today. According to the newspaper's source, Brazil does not expect the US to exert such pressure. Nevertheless, he said the country has become sufficiently strong and diversified in its international relations to withstand hindrances in obtaining credit and finance or reprisals in bilateral trade. The source went on to say that Brazil's recent record on human	ews	BRIEFS

(b)(3)