1500 - 1800 marks monthly.

B. Flight from Austria:

7) In July 1938, Subject fled to Budapest with an Austrian Travel Pass in order to escape the increasing Nazi persecutions of Jews. Here, Subject met an engineer ENGELHARDT (Hungarian Jew who had likewise fled from Vienna). Together, they published a travel atlas for Hungary. This proved to be a successful venture and the work continued until Dec. 1939 when Subject was arrested by the Hungarian Police for lack of necessary residence permit. On 1 Feb. 1940 Subject was handed over to the German Border Police at Honyeshalam, Hungary (Hungarian-Austrian border) from where he was transferred to the Gestapo prison in the Metropole Hotel on Morzingplatz which was also the Stapo Hqs. Subject was briefly questioned on entry by Krim. Rat PREISS.

C. Contact with the CIS:

8) During the summer of 1939, Subject's mother met a Herr PANZIERER at the Austrian Archives, Vienna. Upon discovering that her son was living in Budapest with improper papers, PANZIERER offered to help Subject. PANZIERER thus contacted Subject in Budapest in Sept. 1939, and, after identifying himself as an agent of Ast Wien asked Subject if he would offer his services to the Ast. Subject was not interested in working for Ast Vienna but simply wanted to obtain the necessary papers to remain in Hungary. PANZIERER then suggested Subject come to Vienna and talk with Ing. WAGNER (whom Subject later discovered to be von WAHL) before making a final decision. Subject agreed to this as it offered him an opportunity to see his mother. While in Vienna, Subject met Ing. WAGNER once and again turned down the proposal for employment. As a result, Subject received no assistance in obtaining a Hungarian residence permit and was therefore arrested in December.

On Feb. 4, 1940, MAROGNA-REDWITZ had Subject called from prison by Ing. WAGNER for an interview at his office in Parisergasse No. 4 or 6. Here, Subject agreed to work directly for MAROGNA with the latter's assurance that he would do everything possible to save Subject's mother from persecution in return. Subject was then issued a Reichsdeutscher Reisepass in the name of Richard KLATT, valid for travel anywhere in the Balkans. Subject was prohibited from entering Turkey and was also prohibited from working in Roumania.

9) Subject was directed to work for the I Luft Section under Lt. Col. Roland von WAHL. However, von WAHL was to be his Chief only insofar as the routing of reports was concerned. On all matters requiring executive action, Subject reported directly to MAROGNA. Subject explains this was done in order that MAROGNA could offer him protection from Gestapo persecution.

Subject's first assignment came on 1 May 1940 when he was sent to Sofia for six weeks to establish contacts and potential agents for obtaining information concerning Bulgarian airfields, numbers and types of planes, etc.

10) Contact with Ira LONGIN:

On or about 15 June 1940, Subject returned to Budapest where he met Ira LONGIN. (LONGIN and Subject had been imprisoned in the same cell during the latter's term in Budapest. LONGIN had been arrested as a political suspect concerning Pan-Slav activities.) Subject approached LONGIN on the subject of obtaining positive air intelligence on the Red Air Force for him. Following several meetings, in June, between Subject, LONGIN, Lt. Col. SEIDL (I Luft Vienna) and MAROGNA-REDWITZ, LONGIN declared he would have to see his Chief in Rome to obtain approval for working with Ast Vienna. LONGIN travelled to Rome during latter part of July and returned with his Chief's approval, (later known to be General TURKUL).

LONGIN was issued a German Travel Pass in the name of Ilya LANG in August. He then began preparing his I.S. network with Hqs. at Budapest. Although his immediate superior was Subject to whom he channeled all his information, his genuine boss remained TURKUL.

In October, Subject and LONGIN travelled to Sofia for 14 days when LONGIN met several White Russian contacts while Subject flew on to Athens for about one week on a sightseeing tour. (This was Subject's one and only visit to Greece).

32) Transfer of LMK to Budapest:

In July 1943, the Fuehrer issued an order to the effect that all non-Aryans must be discharged from the Abwehr. MAROGNA-REDWITZ immediately had discussions with Subject concerning the possibility of continuing the LMK in spite of the order. They decided that the only way in which the organization could function without continual interference from the Stapo and SD would be to operate under cover of the Hungarian IS in Budapest. Sept. 3, Subject flew to Sofia to discuss this matter with HATZ (then Hungarian Military Attache to Bulgaria) whom he had previously known. On 7 Sept. Subject flew to Budapest for a meeting with Col. KADAR, Chief of the II Bureau, Col. Anton MERKLY, Chief of III F Section of II Bureau and Major KERN, Chief of Defence Intelligence. Following detailed discussions, KADAR obtained approval from Field Marshal Lt. SZOMBATHELY, Chief of Staff for Subject to operate as an integral part of the II Bureau, directly responsible to KADAR. Subject, however, was to continue to receive his salary and operational funds from Astt Vienna as heretofore. MAROGNA approved this arrangement and ordered the LMK to Budapest with the exception of a small stay-behind (Rest) station, cover name of which was "Schwert", maintained at Skobeleff 55, Sofia and which functioned until the Bulgarian capitulation in Sept. 1944. This station was to forward Ira LONGIN's intelligence reports to the Budapest Hqs. (LONGIN spent about half his time in Sofia and the other half in Budapest).

33) During October 1943, the LMK offices and residence were established in Budapest (Pest side) at Pannonia Strasse 13 where they remained until 1 Nov.; then transfer to Bajza Str. 44 until 2 Nov. 1944; then to Herman Otto Str. 18 (Buda side). The W/T station "Bully" was set up in Oct. 1943 in Szeher Strasse 24 (Buda side) and remained here until 2 Nov. 1944 when it was likewise transferred to Herman Otto Strasse 18.

W/T station "Bully" was used for contacts with GOETZ's station "Islam" in the Hungarian Consulate, Ankara and with the stay-behind station "Schwert" in Sofia.

34) W/T Station "Bock":

Since Subject was forbidden to be in direct contact with Ast Vienna, v. WAHL made arrangements to establish a separate W/T station "Bock" in Budapest, Erwinstrasse 3. Thus, Subject prepared 4 copies of all his intelligence reports - 2 for the Hungarian Abwehr, 1 for the LK files and 1 copy was encoded at Hqs then sent to station "Bock" via BERGLER for transmission to Ast Vienna. The W/T operators Franz WENIGER and Ing. BERGLER ran this station which maintained contact only with Ast Vienna "Wera" and Berlin "Burg".

35) In Jan. 1944, MAROGNA-REDWITZ had a meeting in Vienna with Col. HANSEN (Abw I Berlin), at which time, MAROGNA expressed his dissatisfaction with Berlin's order that Subject be prohibited from having direct contact with Ast Vienna. HANSEN then gave his approval for any working arrangement with Subject that Ast Vienna should wish. As a result, Subject was again subordinated directly to I L Vienna and allowed to set up a new station for direct contact with Ast Vienna. This station was known as "Bully II", located at Rakos Keresztur Batori Str. 15. Simultaneously, station "Bock" was liquidated and W/T operator WENIGER transferred to "Bully II" until March when he was returned to Vienna as W/T operator for KOWALEWSKY in Roumania. BERGLER was also sent to Roumania as chauffeur for KOWALEWSKY.

Vienna and posted to some miscellaneous defence job within the city. The travel ban lasted until late September and early the following month, SCHELLENBERG made Subject and his entire organization directly responsible to Lt. Col. OHLETZ in MILANT C. Subject states that from a practical standpoint, he failed to receive any direction from OHLETZ and as a result the LMK was without instructions since 10 August.

G. Chronological Development of Events Surrounding Subject's Arrest and Imprisonment

54) Lt. Fritz TIEMANN was posted to KdM Vienna as a representative of Lt. Col. OHLETZ late Dec. 1944. At this time Subject made weekly trips of one or two days to the station at Bratislava where Ira LONGIN was located. Subject discovered that TIEMANN was also making regular trips to Bratislava. On 9 and 10 Feb. Subject was again in Bratislava and ran into TIEMANN at noon of the 10th.

Feb. 12th:

The following Monday, 12 Feb., Subject met TIEMANN in front of KdM building, Himmelfahrtgasse and asked him why he was still following him. After a heated conversation, TIEMANN went into WIESER's office and reported the incident. WIESER called Subject in and listened to Subject's complaints concerning TIEMANN whereupon he said he was happy Subject came to him with such problems and promised to remedy the situation. Then WIESER talked about numerous other miscellaneous matters, keeping Subject in his office for about a half hour. As Subject wanted to leave the building, he was arrested in the hall-way by three border customs police with a vague explanation that he was suspected of having sent sums of money to Switzerland and was now planning to escape there with other KdM officers. Subject was locked up in the prison at the Amtsgericht, Schiffamtsgasse.

Feb. 13th:

Interrogation by customs police. Subject received a letter signed by B.d.S. Standartenfuehrer MILNER releasing him from his oath of secrecy. Subject was again accused of having sent his money to Switzerland and of wanting to drive there himself. Subject declared this to be all false whereupon he was asked to give proof that it was not true. Subject then demanded proof or evidence of the accusation and was told he would have to wait for it. Concerning his personal possessions, Subject reported that he had 252 gold pieces and 5,800 Swiss francs in the bank at Csorna.

Feb. 14th:

Questioned concerning jewels taken into Hungary by his mother before her death in Budapest. Was told he should have turned in all her jewelry after her death. (Subject adds that von WAHL told her at the time to simply wear her jewelry and that he would accept the responsibility.)

Feb. 16th:

Subject was shown three small iron boxes of jewelry belonging to his fiancée Miss KREMAN and to his deceased mother, all his money, a valuable three volume stamp collection - all of which was declared as requisitioned by the Customs Office (Ober. Insp. SCHULZ and Sekr. GRUENHARDT). Subject was then informed that he would be turned over to the Stapo for further investigation concerning "Rasson Schande" (Subject was living with and had applied for marriage to Miss KALMAN, an Aryan). The minimum sentence for "Rassen Schande" was 7 years.

Feb. 23rd:

Subject was told by Customs Sekr. GRUENHARDT that he had no way out of his situation and suggested to Subject: "If you are not too afraid as a Jew, then hang yourself with your belt."

Feb. 26th:

Subject was told that his letter to Anwalt DERFFLINGER (written while imprisoned explaining his situation and asking for assistance) would not be forwarded and would be destroyed. Subject was strictly forbidden to maintain contact with anyone.

55) March 15th:

Capt. KLAUSNITZER appeared at the Zollfahndung and informed Subject that he would carry on an investigation of the LMK on behalf of MILANT Berlin. He further informed Subject that all members of the LMK excepting BERGLER and LONGIN had been arrested and investigated.

56) March 20, 21, 23, 24, 27, 28:

Thorough interrogation by KLAUSNITZER in Hotel Grande, Vienna. The interrogation covered the following:

- a) Activities in Sofia
- b) Reason for transfer of LMK from Sofia to Budapest
- c) Activities in Budapest
- d) Reason for incorporation into the Hungarian Abwehr and the handing over of reports to the Hungarians
- e) Organization of LMK Personnel
- f) Relationship with Col. HATZ
- g) Relationship with the Swiss OSTERWALDER
- h) Relationship with Bandi GROSS
- i) Present contacts and any newly established or contemplated
- j) All contacts with ENOMOTO
- k) Finance record of the LMK
- l) Finances and earnings of the firm Mittermayer of which Subject is half-owner.

Following the interrogation and investigation, KLAUSNITZER informed Subject that he could find no derogatory evidence and asked Subject if he wouldn't work for him as a Head Agent. Subject refused, whereupon KLAUSNITZER asked him if he wouldn't at least put him in contact with ENOMOTO. Subject answered that, momentarily, he had no contact with ENOMOTO himself, but agreed to give him a letter addressed to ENOMOTO as soon as KLAUSNITZER returned from Berlin with permission for Subject's release. KLAUSNITZER went to Berlin on 30 March and never returned.

March 31st:

Asked by the Zollfahndung (obviously inspired by WIESER and TIEMANN) what KLAUSNITZER's opinion on his case was. Subject replied "none".

57) April 3rd:

Zollfahndung official explained that their station was being liquidated due to the advance of the Russians and, that since they had no grounds for holding Subject any longer, they were turning him over to the custody of the RSHA. Subject was then transferred to the jail at Mertzinsplatz.

April 4th:

Krim. Kom. SORGER of Stapo Vienna appeared and informed Subject that he would remain in custody in a special prison.

April 5th:

Thirty-six prisoners were released from jail; all prisoners released with exception of Subject, a Russian parachute saboteur, a Polish parachute agent and a foreign black marketeer.

April 6th:

SORGER told Subject to prepare for departure. Left in the company of four other Stapo officials via auto to Strebersdorf where he was given over to Krim. Dir. COPPELT. By this time all GIS offices in Vienna had withdrawn with exception of one Rest (stay-behind) Kommando under SORGER. All Gestapo personnel had apparently withdrawn to Strebersdorf.

April 10th:

Stapo Hqs. withdrew to Krems (Subject accompanied it, still being in COPPELT's custody) to the Cigarren Fabrik. Subject was kept under arrest for six days at an Aussenstelle of Krems, at Stain.

April 16th:

Transferred to Salzburg to the Stapo jail (new Police jail at Schoenerer Platz) via a Stapo truck driven by Ustuf. BROEDL.

58) May 2nd:

All prisoners, including Subject were released due to the Americans about to enter Salzburg. Subject immediately went to see Krim. Kom. EISINGER of the local Stapo in an attempt to obtain some identity papers as he had none since his arrest. EISINGER was surprised to see Subject free and alive but had no time to question him so issued Subject the following identity paper:

Bestaetigung

Nach Verlust der Ausweispapiere wird bestaetigt, dass das beigegeklebte Lichtbild den verheirateten Kaufman Richard Kauder,
6/9/1900 Wien geboren, Wien wohnhaft, darstellt.

Im Auftrage:

EISINGER

Subject thereafter attempted to find out where the Krim Vienna Hqs was located in the hope that he would be able to

to recover atleast some personal belongings, clothing, etc. Also was anxious to ascertain the present whereabouts of Miss Kalman.

59) Meeting with TURKUL:

Subject accidentally met TURKUL in front of the Standort Kommandantur on SA Str. TURKUL was living at the Oesterreichischerhof Hotel. He informed Subject that TIEMAN and BERGLER were in Leogang and that Col. WIESER was in St. Ulrich where the KdM was located. TURKUL was in the company of Gen. KREUTER, his Chief of Staff whom Subject had met once in Sept. 1944 in Vienna. TURKUL stated that he intended to remain in Salzburg and be overrun by the Americans.

At 1400 hours of the same day, Subject caught a ride via military vehicle to Leogang where he found BERGLER, his former chauffeur HANNACK, his former W/T operator Julian RIESS and Lt. TIEMAN all living at the Hotel Stoeckl.

May 4th:

Stabsintendant BEISE called on Subject, living at the Forsthaus in Leogang and informed him that WIESER wanted to see him that evening in St. Ulrich. Subject refused to go.

May 5th:

WIESER sent several soldiers to Leogang to arrest Subject and bring him to St. Ulrich. As the soldiers arrived at the hotel, they were told by Lt. Col. KROHA (also living there) that a General was living in the room adjoining Subject's, whereupon the Sgt. in charge stated he would rather they not cause any commotion as they had no arrest warrant. The soldiers left quietly and did not return.

May 23rd:

Subject met LASKE in Leogang and heard, for the first time of the passes which Col. SCHULZ was issuing for TURKUL stating that the TURKUL organization was now fighting in Yugoslavia under the American Army. Subject declared the whole set-up as a swindle and refused to have anything to do with either LASKE or SCHULZ.

May 24th:

Arrested by 42nd Div. CIC together with LONGIN, BERGLER and LASKE. Sent to CIC jail, Kitzbuehl.

60) June 4th:

Transferred to Salzburg.

H. LMK activities in Turkey and the N.E.:

61) Subject was never able to build up an extensive organization in the Near East for two main reasons: 1) He was prohibited from travelling to Turkey because the Germans were afraid he would desert to the Allies. He also lacked a high calibre agent to represent himself. 2) K.O. Bulgaria always looked upon the independent LMK as a competitor both in Bulgaria and in Turkey. Consequently, both WAGNER and SEUBERT did their utmost to subordinate and even eliminate KLATT's organization.

62) Contact with ROMANOFF:

During an occasion in early 1941, Sergei ROMANOFF, a member of the TURKUL organization in Belgrade, mentioned the fact that he had the intention of travelling to Turkey should he succeed in obtaining a visa. Subject requested from ROMANOFF that once in Istanbul, he attempt to find someone with whom Subject could set up W/T contact with White Russians living in Turkey.

63) ROMANOFF returned from Istanbul in August 1941 and reported that he had spoken with the Spanish Minister Marquis de PRATT. PRATT agreed to the arrangement, providing LMK bear all expenses. He would have a W/T station set up in one of the rooms of the Embassy, but Subject would have to furnish the apparatus and train the operator. PRATT would then send a reliable Spaniard to Subject in Sofia for full instructions, and who would then carry out the mission in Turkey. Subject states that PRATT was enthusiastic about the idea, since he was well acquainted with White Russians from the time of the Spanish Civil War. PRATT then went to Sofia in order to discuss the matter further as Subject was forbidden travel to Turkey.

64) In October 1941, DALISSE was sent by PRATT to Sofia for training. He was installed at the Legation as Assistant to the Press Attache. STIMMELMAYER briefed him in radio transmitting, radio technical questions, station construction, radio repairs, keys, etc.

Late January 1942, DALISSE returned to Ankara. PRATT, in the meantime, had taken back W/T apparatus with him as courier material during a return flight from Budapest. It was handled as a Koffergeraet S 90 / 40.

65) The station "Anker" was established in the residence of the Spanish Legation, somewhat outside of the city limits. Several members of the Legation lived in this house, hence, through a sign "Spanish Legation", it was protected as an extraterritorial building. The rent of the house was later paid by LMK through the German Abwehr.

66) PRATT decided with Subject that the reports of his Press Attache, the former Russian VELIKOTNY, should reach Subject weekly by courier and that only important reports would be transmitted. Furthermore, the DALISME reports could be broadcast should the traffic not claim more than 2 hours daily. As to the transmission of the courier mail, it was agreed that Subject establish contact between the Air Attache at Istanbul and the Air Attache at Sofia, whereas PRATT was to pass on his material to the Air Attache at Istanbul.

The VELIKOTNY reports were, according to Berlin Abw. Hqs. sold to different parties, including the German Air Attache's assistant, the Hungarian, Roumanian and Japanese Military Attaches.

67) Subject received the courier letter from the two Air Attaches weekly by Lufthansa, and Subject believes PRATT confined the sealed letter for the Air Attache to von PAPEN himself in order to protect this contact.

A weekly record of all wireless messages was also sent by pouch. These lists included identification of all sources.

68) DALISME sent reports on the Turkish Army, Air Corps pilot training, the establishment of air bases, Anglo-Saxon supplies to Turkey, reports of Russian and Polish I.S. agents plus voluminous propaganda material received from various Legation Attaches.

69) PRATT transferred to Finland:

In May 1943, a meeting of I Luft officers took place in Sofia. At this meeting, the question was raised as to who had radio contact in Turkey which could continue also in the event of war with Turkey. WAHL responded that his 'Referat', namely the LUK had such a contact through a W/T station in the Spanish Embassy. About six weeks later, an Investigative Committee was sent from the Spanish Foreign Ministry which resulted in PRATT's transfer to Helsinki.

70) Subject sent STURM-SCHNEIDER Jr. as agent and W/T operator to Ankara to take over the station "Anker" and DALISME's connections; also to maintain contact with Sofia until new arrangements could be made. A few days later, Subject sent agent GROENWEGHE @ GROENES as protection for STURM-SCHNEIDER. STURM-SCHNEIDER stayed in a hotel in Ankara with cover as representative of the firm MITTERRAYER. He visited the radio station daily. In order to lengthen his stay in Ankara, Subject sent him a telegram saying he must await the arrival of HIRSCH (co-partner of firm MITTERRAYER), who had been delayed. Three days later, DALISME left Ankara for Sofia where he took STURM-SCHNEIDER's place in the W/T station "Schwert".

The provisional Ankara station had the cover name "Anker". It ended with a cross word puzzle which was connected with the date - changing every day.

71) In Sofia, Subject immediately took up contact with the Hungarian Military Attache Col. HATZ in order to make arrangements for the Hungarian MA in Istanbul, Col. BARTALICS to take over the station. HATZ telephoned the Hungarian Abwehr

Chief, Gen. VASVARY who sent Col MERKLY to Sofia and at the same time permitted BARTALICS to proceed on to Sofia. After this conversation, STURM-SCHNEIDER received orders to break up the "Anker" station, take it to Istanbul, hand it over to the Hungarians there and brief them on the codes. The contacts remaining in Ankara were to be, for the present time, taken over by a Hungarian member of the Embassy. Subject cannot recall this person's name. STURM-SCHNEIDER returned to Sofia as soon as his job was completed. GROENWEGHE accompanied STURM-SCHNEIDER from Ankara to Istanbul without letting it be known that they were acquainted. Exactly 36 hours after the dismantling of the "Anker" station, contact was restored with the Hungarian M A station in Istanbul. Subject's links with this station had the cover name "Islan".

72) Employment of GOETZ:

In the meantime, Dr. Willy GOETZ, whom Subject had known before, had arrived in Sofia from Budapest. GOETZ had been secretary of the Hungarian-German Chamber of Commerce in Budapest, during which time he had worked also with the Ast Vienna III F station there under LEHAR and KORDA.

Before GOETZ's arrival in Sofia, KORDA indicated to Subject in Budapest that GOETZ had had some political misunderstanding with the German authorities, that he was listed for arrest by the German Embassy and was requesting Subject to do what he could to help him. Subject offered GOETZ employment in Istanbul for the LMK and gave him strict orders to keep out of mischief of any sort. GOETZ was enchanted with the idea. Was then briefed by Subject on his assignment and W/T codes.

73) GOETZ was provided with a German Passport and received a Turkish visa with no delay due to his legitimate cover of journalist. He left for Istanbul in July 1943. GOETZ received severe orders not to frequent German Abwehr people, members of the Legation or Party members. He was to see Hungarians only.

74) The way in which GOETZ was to pass on information was as follows: GOETZ was to meet either the radio operator or his assistant in the Hungarian Club for meals; was to pass on the accumulated reports and receive any messages deriving from Subject. He was to have no other contact with Hungarians. GOETZ then travelled to Ankara in order to take over the remaining LMK contacts. He established a direct contact with Prof. SCHENSCHIN (being responsible to SAMRAHEDDIN who had gone there from Budapest) who was his chief source of information. Subject believes SCHENSCHIN obtained his information largely from German and Czech emigrants.

75) When GOETZ returned to Budapest, Christmas 1943, he told Subject that his work would be easier if he could live in Turkey as a Hungarian citizen with a Hungarian passport. He had already prepared for this in advance by telling the Turkish authorities that he possessed dual nationality, Hungarian and German. Subject obtained a Hungarian passport for him in Budapest and, with his legitimate cover of Hungarian journalist, he returned to Turkey at the beginning of January 1944.

76) Meanwhile, Subject was anxious to arrange a private W/T station for LNK in Turkey, preferably in Ankara. Therefore, in August 1943, while in Sofia, he contacted ENOMOTO, a Japanese journalist who often travelled to Turkey. ENOMOTO told Subject that upon his next visit to Berlin, he would inquire from the Japanese if it would be possible to have a station set up in the Japanese Legation at Ankara. Upon his return in September, he arranged for a certain AOKI from the Japanese Embassy to visit Subject in order to discuss this matter. A certain AOKI did come, (but not the AOKI who was charged with the radio question) and informed Subject that AOKI had arranged for a radio station in the Japanese Embassy in collaboration with the Chief of the SD and that Subject was to put himself in contact with this Chief. Subject renounced the proposal, especially since Col. HATZ was leaving Sofia for Istanbul where he would hold the position of MA and would, therefore, naturally support Subject's work there. The "Islam" station thus remained as before.

77) The reports derived from the "Islam" station handled the same regions as the former "Anker" station, except, the SCHEN-SCHIN reports were more detailed and included a greater number of reports from such places as Syria, Palestine and the Middle East. His numerous political reports were forwarded directly to Count MAROGNA-REDLITZ.

Subject states that only pure military matters were derived from other sources. GOETZ mentioned that he had contact with a Turkish Abwehr officer, from whom he received the Turkish intelligence information, including precise information on the emergency landing of Anglo-American planes. The SAMRAHEDDIN reports were not very worthwhile excepting for a few on Irak and Iran which were derived from the Irakian Embassy courier. Towards the end, GOETZ established a contact which communicated the exact port of embarkation and destination of American convoys. Subject states GOETZ never mentioned the source of this information.

78) The courier service to the later Budapest Hqs. was handled by the Hungarian Embassy courier as long as the Germans remained in Bulgaria whereas afterwards, this service was discontinued abruptly.

In October 1944, the "Islam" station became inactive when the Hungarian Embassy came over to the Allies following SZALAISSY's seizure of the government. GOETZ remained in Istanbul and received money from Subject via Switzerland; this had been arranged on one occasion by Subject through the Hungarian Abwehr and another time money was sent via BERETTA from Budapest to Istanbul. Subject brought GOETZ's wife, Thilde NEMETH, from Budapest, to Csorna on her request when the retreat began. GOETZ had come over to the Allies in October 1944.

J. Kommando des Melderebiet Vienna:
93) With the change over from the Ast to KdM, several important changes occurred. All the old Abwehr Abteilungen were abolished and in their place was set up a Gruppe Aufklärung (encompassed all I, II, III and Gruppe Verwaltung (former Fuehrungsgruppe). The III F section's activities were transferred to the Gestapo and SD. Its personnel was absorbed into other sections. Several officers went to the newly created Truppenabwehr section under Col. Major VUKITS transferred to the Gestapo; HOCHLEITNER took over the Gruppe Verwaltung; MANTUEFFEL went to West Budapest.
After 20 July, Subject could only give this brief outline of the KdM:

101) Lt. Col. HORACZEK was Head of I Abwehr Kommando, established May 1944 with several troops on the Eastern front. Subject was of the opinion that his Kommando was subordinated only to the German Commanding General in Hungary. It withdrew November 3rd from Budapest to Tata Tavas, Hungary. HORACZEK then became Chief of KdM Breslau in mid-December 1944.

102) Obstdt. Hans KLIEMANN was the Ic AO to the German Commanding General in Hungary. This position was abolished latter part of October when KLIEMANN became Ill and went to a hospital in Bad Gastein, Austria.

L. Kommando des Wehrbezirke Budapest:

103) KdM Budapest was established (replacing the former Nest under HANAUER who now became I Liaison officer with the Hungarian Abwehr) directly under Ill in Berlin under Col. DELIUS GAGNER. It was to set up a new I service as all of the III F activities under the former Nest were now transferred to VI z. Subject states that Major VOKITS came to Budapest at this time and may well have taken over the former III F work there which was under control of Vienna Gestapo. KdM Budapest had a separate W/T station in contact with Vienna and Berlin under Hptl. SCHMIDT (former I k Leiter of KO-BO, Sofia). Subject was of the opinion that the KdM never produced results during its brief existence.

104) In October, the KdM Budapest was disbanded and only a stay-behind MK remained under SEUBERT. Col. DELIUS returned to Vienna to build up the I stay-behind network throughout the Balkans. SEUBERT's Rest MK was subordinated to KdM Vienna and had to withdraw to Komorn-on-the-Danube latter part of Dec. HOETTL had his own W/T station and enjoyed considerable independence, but subject states that he came under GESCHKE to some extent.

N. Gestapo Hungary: (Budapest)

106) Immediately following the entry of German troops into Hungary in March 1944, Stufaf. Krim. Dir. GOPPELT of Vienna proceeded to Budapest in order to establish a Stab station there and then returned to Vienna.

GESCHKE. Leiter Stapp Hungary; also controlled the SD.
KLAGES, Hstuf. In charge of CE activities; died 19 Oct.
NEUGEBAUER, Hstuf. Asst. to KLAGES until his death when NEUGEBAUER took over KLAGES's position.

Subject met KLAGES in July 1944 when he appealed to KLAGES to release a Jewish Hungarian, Leo PREIS from imprisonment in Budapest. KLAGES said: "I'll release him so that you will have a better opinion of the Stapo". PREIS is the son-in-law of the Vienna Social Democrat Gemeinde Rat.

Following outbreak of the Russian war, he went to Sofia as W/T operator. As a result of difficulties arising in station "Anker" proceeded to Ankara and transferred the station to the Hungarian M.A. in Istanbul. Following his return to Sofia, was considered being sent by Subject, to Switzerland to obtain information on "Interavia" newspaper. Plan fell thru. ✓ 65) TSCHERTKOW White Russian. Recruited in summer 1943; trained in W/T and codes in Sofia for purpose of going to Finland or North Russia. This plan fell through when TSCHERTKOW, MUCHONOW and ROMANOW had a quarrel with TURKUL, July 1944 in Budapest, on which occasion, TURKUL accused his co-worker ROMANOW of insubordination.

Soon after this incident, TSCHERTKOV and ROMANOV transferred over to the German propaganda section of the German Legation in Budapest and were thus completely separated from TURKUL. Subject was told by ROMANOV that TSCHERTKOV had been killed during the entry of the Russians in Jan. 1945.

66) TURKUL, Anton. White Russian Leader.

Subject has only a general knowledge of TURKUL's activities prior to 1943, which he obtained through contact with LONGIN. LONGIN never disclosed the name of his Chief until 1942. Subject explains that this was done to protect TURKUL from overt connections with German intelligence.

About 1938, Col. PIECKENBROCK, (Abwehr Chief, Berlin) established contact with TURKUL who maintained a residence in Berlin and where he spent a lot of his time. Soon thereafter, a misunderstanding arose between PIECKENBROCK and TURKUL, resulting in the former issuing an order to the entire Abwehr forbidding contact of any sort with TURKUL. Following this order, he was allegedly watched by the Police. Immediately after conclusion of the Russian-German pact, TURKUL moved to Rome with his family.

Early in 1942, a financial incident concerning TURKUL occurred in Rome. This, plus the growing necessity of closer cooperation with him caused the Abwehr to repeal the order prohibiting traffic with TURKUL.

Subject does not know how much money TURKUL received from the U.S. However, LONGIN refused to accept a salary for his services to the LMK until after the entry of the U.S. into the war. LONGIN then stated to Subject that he would need financial compensation as his organization's source of income had suddenly been cut off. The Rome incident (Mar. 1942) as related to Subject by LONGIN, concerned the payment of a U.S.

Traveller's Check for $1500.00, which was made payable to TURKUL's wife using her maiden name. TURKUL had some difficulty with the Abwehr, (Subject believes it was Oblt. HOERMANN of I.L.) because he could only get the established German rate of exchange instead of the Black Market rate he had expected through I.L. With TURKUL remained in Italy until Mussolini's removal in July 1943, when Col. KLEYENSTUEBER (I.L. Berlin) and Subject flew to Rome in KLEYENSTUEBER's private plane to bring TURKUL, his family and secretary MUCHANOW to Vienna where they remained four weeks then proceeded to Budapest. In Oct. 1943, TURKUL requested Subject that he give them the agents' salaries such as ROMANOV's, TSCHERTKOV's and MUCHANOW's so that he, TURKUL, could keep a better control of his men. Hereafter, TURKUL paid all his miscellaneous agents working for LMK with the exception of LONGIN and his network. TURKUL

TURKUL wanted to set up the political hqs. of his organization in Budapest. The organization had adherents in many countries, associations which constituted primarily a Union of Assistance derived from participation in the wars against "Bolshevism" 1917-1919. It was only in 1943 that TURKUL altered the entry requirements so any Russian declaring himself willing to fight against "Bolshevism" would be admitted to his organization.

Subject discouraged the establishment of such a political centre because he knew the S.D. would then utilize TURKUL to their advantage, thus rendering TURKUL less effective as a source of intelligence for the LMK.

During August and September, TURKUL was able to obtain entry into Budapest for some of his followers through Subject. Subject had an arrangement with the Hungarian Abwehr whereby German Fremdepaesse with Hungarian visas were issued to such emigrants.

Following the occupation of Roumania and Bulgaria by Russian troops, Subject suggested that TURKUL set up a White Russian refugee screening organization in Hungary to prevent the entry of spies and saboteurs. This screening station was established with the concurrence of Col. KUDAR and Col. MERKLY but, due to the rapid advance of the Russians and consequent results, it never started functioning. TURKUL and his organization withdrew to Vienna end Oct. with the aid of Subject. Meanwhile Gen. KREUTER had been attempting, since Sept. to bring WLASSOW and TURKUL together.

In mid-November 1944, CHLETZ (Mil Amt C) suggested to SCHELLENBERG (Leiter Amt VI) that he invite TURKUL, WLASSOW and KREUTER for a meeting in Berlin. This meeting was immediately called. SCHELLENBERG's object was to bring TURKUL and WLASSOW into WLASSOW's Army, forming one political and competent military weapon to exploit the TURKUL organization as fully as possible as a source of Russian intelligence. Militarily TURKUL was to be given command of a corps or division. Following this meeting, TURKUL confided to Subject that he mistrusted WLASSOW and did not believe anything would come of the Army.

In Jan. 1945, KREUTER invited TURKUL to another parley in Prague with WLASSOW and all other important White Russian leaders. Following this meeting, TURKUL again confided to Subject that he was even more disappointed with WLASSOW. He suggested that Subject ask SCHELLENBERG to infiltrate TURKUL men into the WLASSOW Army as 'Political Commissars' so that he, TURKUL could control the entire Army, composed almost completely of POWs. Subject took this proposal to Korf. Capt. von HERTZ at KdM Vienna but does not know the result.

Late January, TURKUL went to Berlin for about a week after which time, he returned to Fuschl. KdM Vienna interpreted this to mean he failed to reach an understanding with WLASSOW. Subject found out through Capt. KLAUSNITZER that TURKUL, LONGIN and SCHULZ (Lt. Col. just assigned to TURKUL) would probably all go to the KdM Ausweichstelle at St. Ulrich.

Subject met TURKUL and KREUTER in Salzburg on 2 May, (day of Subject's release from prison). TURKUL had just returned from St. Ulrich and Leogang where LONGIN, BERGLER, TIEMANN, WIESER and BEYSE were still located. TUNKUL informed Subject that his family, including his sister Frau CHRISTENKO, were living South of Munich and that he intended to remain in Salzburg.

✓ 136) OSTERWALDER, fnu. Swiss citizen. Big dealer in foreign currencies and diamonds; worked with GROENWEGHE and LABENS. Subject met OSTERWALDER in Budapest, Spring '39 in the company of GROENWEGHE and again at Zagreb in May 1940 where Subject had gone to fetch GROENWEGHE to bring him back to Vienna where he was to settle his Zollfahndung affairs. GROENWEGHE, LABENS, OSTERWALDER and a Swiss, BERETTA had helped Subject during his imprisonment in Budapest by sending him food supplies. Subject later arranged to obtain a Bulgarian visa for OSTERWALDER through the Bulgarian Police. In Budapest, Subject also obtained a Hungarian Aufenthaltsbewilligung, Dauervisum and German Travel Permit for OSTERWALDER. When he again requested a German visa, Sept. 1944, from Subject and was refused, he paid a generous sum to a German officer who drove him to Vienna where he obtained the necessary visa. In Vienna OSTERWALDER tried selling gold pieces to his hotel porter and was immediately arrested by the Zollfahndung. At one of his hearings in Dec. 1944, he mentioned Subject as being able to help him. Thus Subject was identified as Leiter of an Abwehrdienststelle which caused inquiries by KdM Vienna.

A large double-bottom trunk was discovered among OSTERWALDER's possessions, in which he had hidden large amounts of gold and foreign currency. He claimed it all belonged to him, except for the sum of one pound which belonged to Dr. KITTEL of the LMK. Subject alleges that OSTERWALDER actually did not carry money for him and that this was also borne out during the trial proceedings. Subject admits the following deal with OSTERWALDER: "Col. MATZ asked me in my office in Budapest, to sell 30 pieces of gold for him. As OSTERWALDER came in an hour later, I passed the request on to him. He took the gold and on the following day, I handed Col. MATZ the bundle of 'pengoes' exactly as I had received it from OSTERWALDER."

Subject saw OSTERWALDER, the last time, in March while in prison in Vienna. He claims that OSTERWALDER never worked for the LMK in any capacity.
