ARMS INGRESS- Tank Car Plan GUAT 757

Robert O. Saravia, whose name (according to Arbenz) was included on SEMANTIC'S list seized by police, was called to the Palacio and cordially received by Arbenz. Saravia was questioned about ESSO tank car movements and Saravia gathered that Arbenz was worried about the use of tank cars to transport arms.

Government: Nuestro Diaria

headline: The vastest plot against the government - plans, codes and documentation in the hands of the authorities; the guarantees will be maintained:

1. emphasizes that the proof shows clearly the involvement of many who "militate in the ranks of anti-communism."

1. for the government the plot is not a serious one for it has come completely under control, having in their power - who is directing it, preparing the rebels, the armament they are counting on, where they are training the civilians contracted for, for that purpose, and in short all the threads of the plot, in addition to the fact that they already know where the clandestine Radio is installed, who operates it and in what place."

(1. claimed that the information which was in view on his desk was not one thousandth part of what they had seized.)
