Dear [redacted]

I and the other defendants appreciated greatly your message of moral support. It was actually delivered to us while we were in the United States Courthouse in Boston, waiting for the judge to hear our pleas of "Not Guilty."

We were pleased to hear that our efforts to end the war in Vietnam have been appreciated in the Soviet Union. I myself was particularly delighted to receive a friendly message from colleagues in medical science.

We are not discouraged or dismayed by our government's effort to silence us. We believe that increasing numbers of thoughtful American people are coming to oppose the war and that Lyndon Johnson is the one who is becoming uneasy. We intend to continue to attack the war with all our energies. If we win in the courts, we will have gained a historical victory. And if we are eventually sent to jail we will be a thorn in the side of the Johnson administration.

Sincerely,

Benjamin Spock
