1. Upon DOLLMANN's arrival in Madrid, where he was accompanied by ( ), he came into contact with Otto SKORZENY who has taken him under his "protection".
2. The Madrid agent of Hotel Plan, the Swiss Travel Agency with which is connected, is one MUELLER or MULLER, a former officer with Abwehr II. ( ) claims that when he hired or recommended MUELLER for the Madrid job, he had no knowledge of the man's past connections with Abwehr. Consequently he alleges surprise and wonder at the way things worked out for DOLLMANN in Madrid. ( ) does admit that he gave DOLLMANN the name of his agent in Madrid for possible assistance.
3. Subject travelled with a Foreign Ministry passport under the name of 'VEZZONI?', giving his profession as "antiquarian". This passport was to be withdrawn by ( ) upon their arrival in Spain. The passport was furnished by ( ) in Rome and consigned to DOLLMANN in Genoa just before embarkation.
4. Subject arrived in Madrid, accompanied by ( ), at about 0700 hours on an unspecified day early in March or late in February. They had travelled by train from Barcellona where they had stayed over one day waiting for train reservations. As soon as they arrived in Madrid, Subject was taken to a monastery; ( ) then set out with one ( ) to make a suitable living arrangements for Subject. Eventually they reached OBERMUELLER, fnu, Madrid Agent of Hotel Plan. The latter got in touch with SKORZENY and OBERMUELLER; with the two priests, called at SKORZENY's office. ( ) reports that SKORZENY is quite well set-up in a commercial office which obviously does little commerce. ( ) believes that SKORZENY works for AIS).
5. Throughout the negotiations ( ) stated he was in Spain to prepare the ground for the arrival of Subject. Eventually, ( ), CERRADO, SKORZENY, and perhaps OBERMUELLER went to see one MARINO, an Italian, who is reported to be connected with the Snia-Viscosa company and who lives very luxuriously in a Madrid Hotel. MARINO had with him a Spanish Captain at all times, who, to ( ) appeared to be MARINO's secretary and errand boy. In talking to MARINO, ( ) let it be known that he was a good friend of MARINOTTI, the Snia-Viscosa President.
6. By the afternoon ( ) had secured everyone's promises to help DOLLMANN when he arrived. ( ) then took ( ) on the side and informed him that DOLLMANN was in town. That evening Subject was taken to a Pensione run by a German, and is at present under the protection of ( ) (reportedly very close to FRANCO himself), with MARINO taking care of the financial assistance.
