SUBJECT: Operations - Intelligence Relationship of CIG with JRES

Reference: "Program for JRES - CIG Cooperation in the Field of Scientific Intelligence", dated 10 January 1947

1. In accordance with Program for JRES - CIG Cooperation, which was jointly approved by the Director of Central Intelligence and the Chairman, JRES, the following policies for the functional operation within CIG in its relations with JRES are announced.

2. The Chief or Acting Chief of the Scientific Branch, ORE, under supervision of the Assistant Director for Reports and Estimates, is the Intelligence Advisor to the Chairman, JRES. In performing this function he will:

a. Report to the Chairman, JRES, as advisor and make himself and the facilities of his branch and the CIG as a whole fully available to him.

b. Be the principal liaison and operational contact between JRES and CIG.

c. Arrange with and control the working relationships of appropriate offices of CIG with offices, individuals, or committees of JRES.

d. Coordinate closely with JRES to develop and pass to OCB for appropriate processing, JRES requirements, requests, information, and intelligence, except those matters subject to special handling or which cannot be accomplished within the framework of ORE.

e. Receive from OCB, for processing with JRES, CIG requirements and collection requests which may be susceptible of collection from JRES sources.

In performing the above functions, he will follow the functional organization of CIG and will be guided by the operational policies announced by the Director.

3. On matters concerning JNS the other offices of OIS will regard and deal with the Chief of the Scientific Branch, ONS, as they would with the chief of intelligence of a departmental agency. Contact with operational personnel of JNS will be arranged through the Chief of the Scientific Branch, ONS.

4. The Assistant Director, OSO, and the Assistant Director, ONS, will recommend to the Director any special arrangements necessary to the security requirements of OSO.

5. Nothing in this directive negates the control of the Scientific Branch by the Assistant Director, ONS, for the purpose of producing national intelligence in the scientific field, and general requirements related thereto or abridges the normal relationship of the Assistant Director, ONS, with the appropriate officers of JNS.
